No Place For Opportunists In Congress

WAVERERS MAY YET GIVE UP TICKET

NO DEVIATION FROM INDEPENDENCE

Quality Of Candidates Can't Be Sacrificed For Mere Victory At Polls

A WARNING AND A REMINDER

WARDHAGANJ, November 17. The following statement has been issued by Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, Babu Rajendra Prasad, Khan Abdul Ghaffar Khan and Seth Jammalal Bajaj: "We have noticed with some apprehension the tendency of some Congress Committees to recommend as candidates for the ensuing provincial elections persons whose past record and even present activities have been opposed to the Congress."

Quality More Important

We have laid stress previously, and we wish to do so again, that the quality of candidates, from the point of view of Congress policy, is more important than winning of seats and capture of a fictitious majority in Legislatures.

Congress Policy

This Congress policy has been laid down in the Election Manifesto of the All-India Congress Committee. It is not to co-operate in any way with the Act but to combat it and seek to end it. It is to carry out, in so far as is possible, the Congress policy of rejection of the Act and to resist British Imperialism in its attempts to strengthen its hold on India and its exploitation of Indian people.

Pledge Of Independence

Only such persons can be chosen as Congress candidates for election as believe in this policy fully and are prepared to carry it out. In the words of the Lucknow Congress resolution such candidates must be chosen from those who fully support the Congress objective of Indian Independence and pledge themselves to carry out its policy in regard to legislatures. Such pledges may not be lightly or unknowingly undertaken.

They May Reconsider

We trust, therefore, that all candidates who have already been nominated will bear this in mind and, if any of them consider it necessary to reconsider their decision in view of this fact, they should do so. All candidates must be chosen on this basis.

Conflict For Seats

We have also noticed with regret that certain conflicts have arisen in some places among Congressmen themselves as to who should be the Congress candidate. We should like to remind Congressmen that the real struggle for freedom will not be carried on inside the legislatures but outside.

Strength Through Masses

In the words of the Election Manifesto the real strength comes from thus organising and serving the masses. This all important work demands continuous attention and active service of all Congressmen. There is no limit to the number of persons who are required to do so.—A.P.

On receipt of information search parties in planes and motor cars located the wreckage.—United Press.

INSTRUCTIONS TO GOVERNORS

Two Orders-in-Council: Butler Opens Debate In Commons

LONDON, Nov. 17. Mr. Butler moved two orders under the Government of India Act containing instructions to Governors of provinces and Governor of Burma. He stated that the consideration of these Instruments carried one stage further the voluminous work which followed the Government of India Act. Referring to amendment to be proposed by Mr. Morgan Jones designed to secure representation for labour in the Chamber under paragraph Nineteen dealing with nominations by Governors, Mr. Butler said the amendment was an example of the way members could bring influence to bear upon Government to consider about and modifying Instruments. He was glad to know that the amendment contained no general criticism of the Instrument but confined itself to a particular point.

WHY NO REFERENCE

Reverting to Mr. Morgan Jones' amendment, Mr. Butler explained that the amendment would have made special provision for including a labour representative among those nominated by the Governors in the Provincial Upper Houses.

Mr. Butler pointed out that the Instructions did not necessarily mean that labour representatives would be excluded. There was just as much chance of a Governor, if he found a suitable labour representative, nominating him as if there was any mention in the Instrument.

WHAT THEY SAY

The matter has been referred to all Indian Governors and the Government of India all of whom are of the opinion that they would prefer their hands to be free to nominate whom they thought best and redress the inequalities in representation. Therefore Government felt it wise not to include special reference to labour in the Instrument itself.

LETTER FROM KING

Mr. Butler proceeded, this letter from the King—which is the simplest description for it—was for the most part in identical terms to all Governors. It could not counsel Governor to adopt the course which act forbids and was not a legal document which could be interpreted in courts but was a well-recognised method of placing on record the duties of the Crown's representative which could not be properly enjoined upon him by Statute. They hoped that the combination of rigidity of section of Act introducing provincial autonomy and flexibility of instructions which could be amended by an address of both Houses would produce checks, balance and above all the blessed spirit of continuity from one administration and generation to another which are features of British constitution.

NAGPUR, Nov. 17. A keen contest is expected for the Central Provinces seat, in the Council of State between Mr. N.K. Kelkar (Congress nominee) and Mr. V. V. Kalkar (Independent), the two candidates whose nominations were declared valid after scrutiny to-day.

OSSIETZKY RELEASED

Valiant Pacifist Who Was All But Dead In Nazi Concentration Camp

(Special Cable.) BERLIN, November 17. Carl von Ossietzky, one of the best known pacifist writers, has been released from prison after being incarcerated by the Nazis in the concentration camps since 1933.

Carl von Ossietzky was the sworn enemy of militarism and strove ceaselessly to rouse civilian consciousness against the "Omnipotence of the Generals". Editor of "Weltbueche", he was a force to be reckoned with. He was condemned to imprisonment. But while yet he could escape the concentration camp by fleeing from Germany, he proclaimed: "He speaks with a hollow voice, who seeks refuge across the border." There is a concerted move by well-known pacifists to have the Nobel Peace Prize awarded to him and a booklet was recently published setting forth the case of Carl von Ossietzky. The last that was known about him before his release, was that he seemed completely broken down, and if allowed to rot in the Nazi Camp, he would die.

DHARAVI SITUATION UNDER CONTROL

City Returning To Normal

Except for a solitary incident which occurred at Kasar Sree, Ladar, in which a Fathan youth was stabbed and there was nothing of any consequence on Tuesday night. The situation in Dharavi is now completely under control, and the return to normal state of affairs in the city is now well in sight.

It appears that at about 8-30 p.m. a Hindu came up from behind and slung his hand over the shoulder of a Fathan youth walking ahead of him and inflicted a deep stab wound in the region of the heart. The victim of the outrage recoiled and fell to the ground and saw the fleeing figure of a Hindu. The police arrived on the scene and removed the Pathan to the K. E. M. Hospital where he has been detained for treatment.

At Dharavi constant police patrols were on the move and calm has been restored.

Outside the Globe Cinema, Null Bazaar at 9-30 p.m. some Hindus proceeded towards Null Bazaar. There was a hue and cry but before any trouble could arise, a light police patrol drew up on the spot in a taxi. As the officers alighted the Hindus fled for their life, leaving their would-be victims in the hands of the police to be escorted to safety.

DOLLAR WILL BE PROTECTED

Treasury Has Adequate Powers, Says Secretary

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17. Showing apparent unconcern over the accumulation of Foreign Holdings of the United States securities, Mr. Morgenthau to-day declared that the Treasury already has all powers needed to protect the dollar against international capital movements.

Although it is explained that the Treasury would undertake the study of foreign investments suggested by President Roosevelt, Mr. Morgenthau said that legislation affecting such investments would be considered only if future study demonstrated its need.—Reuter.

SPECIAL MONETARY POWERS

U. S. Govt. To Seek Further Lease

(Special Cable.) WASHINGTON, November 17. The United States Government will seek the continuance of its present special monetary powers in exactly their existing form says the head of the United States Treasury.

Mr. Morgenthau was replying to a question by the press whether any change might be made in the President's power to vary the gold content of the Dollar or in the Treasury's Authority to maintain stabilisation fund. Both powers expire on January 30 next year.

Peasants Plan March To Faizpur

WILL COVER 200 MILES THROUGH 'NAGAR DISTRICT IN FORTNIGHT

POONA, Nov. 17.

A peasants' march to Faizpur in connection with the All India Kisan (Peasants) Conference to be held there along with the Congress has been planned. The march will commence from Deolali through important agricultural centres of the Ahmednagar District, at present in the grip of fodder famine, and passing through important villages, covering 200 miles and reaching Faizpur in about a fortnight's time on the eve of the Congress session. It has been suggested that the Congress delegates from Andhra and Maharashtra should join the marchers at Mandmad all proceeding together thence.

The Secretaries of the Kisan Conference Reception Committee have appealed to Taluka and village organisations to co-operate with them in making the necessary arrangements "en route" and contribute towards expenses estimated at Rs. 2,500.

An informal meeting of Kisan workers held here decided to carry on a campaign to enlist members and hold the Reception Committee meeting not later than December 10. Mr. Indulal Jainik will tour Maharashtra.—A. P.

Deliberate Act Of Piety And Justice

MAHATMA ON TRAVANCORE PROCLAMATION

Reformers & Harijans Should Use New Freedom In Becoming Spirit

"In the House of God in Travancore, henceforth there will be no distinction between man and man. There will be no Harijan and no high caste. All will be Harijans, children of God. If these are not the implications of the great proclamation, it is nothing but a mere scrap of paper. But we have no reason to doubt its sincerity or suspect any mental reservations."

In these words Mahatma Gandhi commends the "well thought out, deliberate act of piety and justice" of the Maharaja of Travancore, in an article in the current issue of "The Harijan".

CALL TO REFORMERS AND PRINCES

WARDHAGANJ, Nov. 17. The following is the text of the article:—

"The Travancore Durbar have earned the congratulations of the whole Hindu world and all thoughtful men by issuing the proclamation about temple entry for all Hindus. The action has been long overdue. But better late than never. It may be said without pride that the way for the great step was prepared by the gentle, but persistent, effort of the Travancore Branch of the Harijan Sevak Sangh headed by Shri Parmeshwar Pillai, the workers of the Sangh and the awakened conscience of the Sevarami Hindus who had sent numerous petitions to the Durbar praying for the opening of the State Temples to Harijans on the same terms as they were to caste Hindus."

ACT OF PIETY AND JUSTICE. Untouchability, though an excrescence, has taken such a hold of the Hindu world that whenever a Hindu breaks through it and declares against it, he excites admiration among reformers and becomes an object of fierce criticism from the orthodox. This is much more so, when action is taken by one in high authority as H. H. The Maharajah of Travancore, an ancient orthodox Hindu State. Let us hope all criticism will be hushed before this well thought out, deliberate act of piety and justice.

ITS MEANING. Let us hope too that no attempt will be made to whittle away the hard earned freedom of Harijans by hedging it round by any least distinction between one Hindu and another. If the proclamation means anything it means that in temples conducted under the State aegis, Harijans will offer worship precisely on the same terms as the highest caste Hindu so called.

IN OTHER WORDS, in the House of God in Travancore, henceforth there will be no distinction between man and man. There will be no Harijan and no high caste. All will be Harijans, children of God. If these are not the implications of the great proclamation it is nothing but a mere scrap of paper. But we have no reason to doubt its sincerity or suspect any mental reservations.

EQUALITY OF STATUS. Travancore has a large and important Christian community. Christian Missions are girding with Harijans, rightly so, doubt from their own standpoint. They are spending money on them and holding out hope of real freedom and equality of social status. It is beside the present discussion that for Harijans there is no social equality and no real freedom anywhere except when it is first obtained in Hinduism. I am not thinking of individuals. I am thinking of the whole mass. The latter are so intertwined with other Hindus that unless they become brothers with them, instead of remaining apart, which they are, no change of label can avail anything. But this apart, let us realise that the working of the proclamation will be narrowly watched and criticised by sister communities. It, therefore, behoves the State authorities as well as the caste Hindus to give full effect to the letter and spirit of the proclamation.

DUTY OF REFORMERS. The main duty of working the proclamation, however, devolves in a way upon the reformers and Harijans. They should avail themselves of the freedom in a religious, becoming and humble spirit. Reformers should see to it that Harijans enter these temples after proper ablution and in clean condition. I know that this primary rule is observed more in breach than in performance by the vast majority of temple-going caste Hindus. Harijans may not copy the bad manners of caste Hindus. They should take pride in setting a good example in cleanliness, both of body and heart.

NO POLITICAL SIGNIFICANCE. The proclamation should have no political significance as it has none. I regard it as the performance of a purely religious duty by (Continued on page 2, column 1.)

BHOPATKAR AIRS HIS VIEWS

No Compromise Possible With Congress

POONA, Nov. 16.

Mr. L. B. Bhopatkar, Leader of the Democratic Swaraj Party, has issued a lengthy statement to the Press, in the course of which he opines that the recent compromise effected between the Berar and C. P. Marathi Branches of the Democratic Swaraj Party and the Congress cannot last long.

He knew the mentality of the Democrats there, so he apprehended that there might be serious repercussions as a sequel to the compromise.

As regards Maharashtra he was not as yet approached by the Congress Party, nor had any proposal been made to him either directly or indirectly in this behalf. He, however, thought that in view of the fundamental differences in principles and policy between Congress and Democrats, such a compromise would be difficult.

Continuing Mr. Bhopatkar criticised the alleged anti-Democratic activities of the Congress in Maharashtra and deprecated the propagation by the Congress President socialism and communism.

Concluding Mr. Bhopatkar said that his party would not have any the least objection to ally itself with the official Congress Party or for that matter with any other Political Party, provided it was guaranteed full liberty of propagating its own principles and of acting in pursuance thereof. In his opinion the idea of merging the Democratic Party in any other Party was simply unthinkable.

Alliance and not merger would be the keynote of its attitude in regard to the forthcoming elections.—United Press.

Vankar Ruler Seeks Opinion Of His Subjects

VANKANER, Nov. 16.

Addressing the New Year Dargah, the Maharana Rajasabhai Saib Amassynhji Bahadur of Vankaner, spoke on the Federation.

His Highness said: "The new Act contemplates the introduction of Federal Government for British India and 'Indian India.' Accordingly the State is invited by the British Government to co-operate in the Federal agreement and it is, therefore, essential for the State to decide in that matter at early date. The Federal scheme will directly affect the populace of the State in all spheres of life, namely political, economical, industrial and social.

"So it is necessary for the State and its subjects to devote mature consideration to the question of joining the Federation. We think it desirable that, before joining Federation, we should in the first instance know the wishes of the subjects and would give them the opportunity of having their say as to whether the scheme is beneficial to them or otherwise. Accession to Federation will be a document resembling an international agreement and it is not open for a State to accede from it after having once joined it. It is, therefore, our wish that the well-educated leaders from our subjects should enlighten us with their views in the matter, after mature deliberations with the general public. After being in possession of the views of the public we shall try our best to find out what will be the best course for the State to follow, always bearing in mind the real and welfare of our subjects.—A. Bandra Chief Officer Says Legal Provisions Of Municipal Act Will Be Rigidly Enforced

Santa Cruz and Vakola will soon be free from the nuisance of buffalo stables.

Mr. G. D. Gimi, Chief Officer of the Bandra Municipality, with commendable alertness, has decided to take immediate action and remove these eye-sores without further delay.

In a letter to Dr. K. R. Thakkar, of Vakola, the Chief Officer, states that, necessary action is now being taken.

The legal provisions in the Municipal Act and By-laws for the regulation of milch cattle stables will, henceforth, be rigidly enforced and, as a matter of fact, several stable owners and occupiers are under prosecution for contravening the provisions.

Applications have also been submitted to the Court for getting the stables closed.

All Precautions Taken

On the precautions for preventing the spread of infectious diseases are also being taken, says Mr. Gimi. The wells of the villages are periodically permanganated and a mosquito survey of the villages has been taken and breeding grounds of mosquito larvae are being treated with larvicides.

Thanks to Mr. Gimi, the Chief Officer of Bandra Municipality, and Dr. Thakkar the suburban residents of these two villages may now look forward to a new era of health and happiness.

C. O.'s Letter
The letter of the Chief Officer, Bandra Municipality, is as follows:—

"The legal provisions in the Municipal Act and By-laws for regulation of milch cattle stables is rigidly enforced and several stable owners and occupiers are under prosecution for contravening the provisions."

"Applications have also been submitted to the court for getting some of the stables closed."

"A mosquito survey of the village has been taken and breeding grounds of mosquito larvae are being treated with larvicides. The wells of the village are also periodically permanganated."

End Of City Milk Hold-Up?

'BHAIYYAS' AGREE TO RESUME WORK

BOMBAY, Tuesday.
"Resume work first! The wages question will be considered later!" Thus the Hindu leaders appealed this morning to 1,000 Bhaiyyas, who had been on strike since Sunday last, causing considerable dislocation in the City's milk supply.

At last the Bhaiyyas have been persuaded to resume work and attend to the milch cattle in the City. They have been told that their grievances, not referred to in the terms of agreement arrived at on Monday evening, will be shortly looked into.

The issue which started as a quasi-communal issue thus changed to one of pure economics when a decision on it was postponed for the present.

ARREARS GUARANTEED

On the present understanding, the Bhaiyyas will go back to work on the same terms as hitherto existing and under the same conditions obtained before the strike commenced.

The agreement reached last evening, will provide them relief in that the payment of the arrears in their wages has been guaranteed and they will not be harassed for their joining the strike. Further they will be afforded protection in view of the disturbed conditions in the City.

After the joint meeting of the Hindu leaders, the representatives of the Bombay Cattle Owners' Association and the representatives of the Bhaiyyas, held at the Mahajanwadi, Kalbadevi, this morning and this afternoon, the Bhaiyyas were asked to observe the terms of the original agreement by resuming work.

Accompanied by their employers, mostly Muslims, the Bhaiyyas fled out of the premises of the Mahajanwadi, where they were given shelter during the last few days, in batches of five and ten, to go back to the stables where the milch cattle would be waiting for them!

Elaborate Agreement

On Monday evening after prolonged discussions between the Hindu leaders and the representatives of the Cattle owners' Association and the Bhaiyyas, an elaborate agreement was reached, whereby the Association agreed to the purpose of opening a joint market and also to safeguard the rights and privileges of Bhaiyyas who, it is stated, were not duly observed in the past.

Shortly after this, the Bhaiyyas raised the question of wages which they considered was too low for them. It is stated that formerly they were paid 10 annas and 12 annas a day according to the nature of work they were doing, but these were respectively cut down to 6 annas and 8 annas.

The Bhaiyyas demanded a restoration to the old scale of payment. The Hindu leaders re-opened negotiations last night which continued till a late hour with the Bhaiyyas but the latter stuck to their guns.

This morning Messrs. Mathuradas Vissani, Gordhandas G. Morari, L. R. Tairsee and Chiranjilal Loyalka, President of the Hindu Bhaiyya Association of Bombay (mostly consisting of the Bhaiyyas besides others) met the representatives of the Cattle owners, prominent among whom were Messrs. A. M. Jaluddin, President of the Association, M. M. Kilekar, and Nusservanji Curesji.

Lot Of Persuasion
After discussions, the Hindu leaders met the Bhaiyyas who were seated in the court-yard and appealed to them to resume work according to the terms of the original agreement and keep the honour of the word given to the Cattle owners' Association. Their grievances which did not fall within the scope of the agreement of the original agreement by resuming work.

It took a lot of persuasion on the part of the leaders, to bring round the Bhaiyyas to the view that the original agreement should first be observed, as the question of wages was not part of the agreement.

Mr. Chiranjilal Loyalka the President of the Hindu Bhaiyya Association, which had, from the beginning, played a prominent part on behalf of ventilating the grievances of the Bhaiyyas, also appealed to the Bhaiyyas to observe the terms of the agreement, before further steps could be contemplated.

At about 1-30 in the afternoon, the Bhaiyyas finally decided to resume work, though there was considerable opposition in their ranks to the effect that they should not join work until the dispute over wages was also finally settled.

Agree To Go Back
In batches of five and ten, the Bhaiyyas slowly fled out of the premises of the Mahajanwadi, accompanied by their employers, who were mostly Muslims and said they would go back to the stables, where the milch cattle would be waiting for them!

After successfully persuading the Bhaiyyas to go back to work, the leaders proceeded to the Dar-yastan (Mandvi) to persuade other Bhaiyyas who were sheltered there since Sunday last.

DEATH SENTENCE COMMUTED

"Murder Of Man In Quarrel Was Not Planned"

The Chief Justice and Mr. Justice Maclean at the High Court reduced the sentence of death passed by the Sessions Judge of Ratnagiri on one Laxman Ravi Chavan to one of transportation for life.

While holding that the accused had killed Bhikhu alias Bishwanath Pandurang Bhawe, their lordships were of opinion that the accused had not planned the murder which was committed on the spur of the moment.

The accused who was an employee of the Government Central Press, Bombay, went to the village of Kalamushli in Ratnagiri District.

He was seen at a place between Kalamushli and Kasen villages on April 3. Circumstantial evidence showed that the accused attacked and inflicted fatal injuries on the deceased at the place as the latter was returning to Kalamushli village on the same day.

After killing the deceased the accused was alleged to have fled from the scene of offence, but his blood stained clothes were recovered from the place.

The Sessions Judge of Ratnagiri convicted the accused, holding that though the evidence was mainly circumstantial, it was convincing and conclusive against the accused and that it was a cold blooded murder, planned and carried out with deliberation.

Murder Not Planned.
Delivery judgment in appeal, their lordships observed that there was no doubt that the accused had murdered the deceased on a lonely road.

The evidence showed that the accused's family was not on good terms with the deceased. This provided some evidence of the motive. But their lordships saw no reason to suppose that the accused deliberately left Bombay and went to the village with a view to murder the deceased. The only fair conclusion to come to was that the accused was going to his father's house and met the deceased on the way by accident.

The evidence left no doubt that there was a quarrel between them and in the course of the struggle that ensued the accused had murdered the deceased.

In the circumstances their lordships reduced the death sentence to one of transportation for life.

TWO SMALL FIRES IN CITY

Another fire broke out last night at Musjid Bunder Road, in a cloth shop causing loss to the extent of Rs. 1,000. Both the fires were put out by the Fire Brigade.

Managers Of Khatau Makanji Mill Withdraw Threat Of Wage-Cut

A determined front on the part of the workers, both Hindus and Muslims in the Khatau Makanji Mill situated near Madanpura have brought them victory.

The management of the Mill have withdrawn the threatened wage-cut which led the workers to down tools. Armed with this success the workers resumed work yesterday noon.

Friday last was the pay-day but the weavers having got scent that they would be subjected to a wage-cut refused to accept their wages and resorted to a stay-in-strike. A meeting was held in the mill compound and was addressed by speakers from among the workers themselves.

They stressed the importance of solidarity in their ranks and emphasised the fact that theirs being a fight for bread, it did not allow of any communalism.

The Labour Officers tried to intervene but were refused a hearing by the workers. On Monday when the Mill re-opened after two days' holiday the workers continued their stay-in-strike. The strike was so complete that the management had to climb down.

They gave the workers to understand verbally that no wage-cut would be effected. But the workers were not satisfied with these verbal assurances and demanded a written statement from the management who thereupon put up notices announcing that the workers would get their pay according to the previous rates.

Having secured this written statement from the management the workers have resumed work.

HEATED DEBATE IN LEAGUE BOARD

Sequel To Proposed Change In Pledge For U. P. Muslim Candidates

LUCKNOW, Nov. 16.
The proposed alteration in the language of the Muslim League pledge led to long and heated discussion at a meeting of the League's Provincial Parliamentary Board held at Lucknow yesterday.
It is understood that Khwaja Abdul Majid wanted that the League's pledge be so altered as to include the candidates who were not members of the Muslim League.

He opined that the Muslim League membership should not be the sole qualification for a candidate seeking election on the Muslim League Parliamentary Board ticket.

He urged that the membership of the Parliamentary Board was a sufficient qualification and wanted that more candidates(?) be added to the pledge which had already been signed by 50 candidates.

There was strenuous opposition to this proposal. It was, however, resolved finally to postpone the consideration of the amendment till the next meeting of the Board, when Mr. Jinnah will be invited.—United Press.

Following the death of Mohomed Bashir in Stable Lane, Kamatipura last evening, by stab-wound in the stomach, the Nagpada Police have arrested two Hindus from the locality.
Inquest was postponed to November 17.

Amidst din and commotion reminiscent of the beginning of the communal riot days in Bombay, 200 persons arrested yesterday, soon after fire was opened by the Police at Dharavi, were also placed before the Magistrate for remand into custody.

In applying for remand, the Police Officer stated that rancorous feelings of communal enmity were detected among the groups of Hindus and Muslims, who concealed in their places of residence, broken soda-water bottles, heaps of stones and other missiles. The Police opened fire and 44 South Indians and a Muslim were arrested.

The usual Police 'bandobast' was maintained in the Court premises.

Following enmity between two clubs at Arthur Road, a fight ensued last evening.

Balkrishna Govind Karker was arrested by the Police on charges of rioting and causing grievous hurt and ordered to be released on bail by Mr. R. Mathalona, Additional Presidency Magistrate, Mazgaon.

3 YEARS' R. I. FOR THIEF

A middle-aged Hindu Shantaram Tukaram, who admitted seven previous convictions, was sentenced to 3 years' R. I. by Mr. M. A. F. Coelho, Presidency Magistrate, Dadar, in respect of two charges of house-breaking and theft committed on September 23 and 27 last, in Bombay.

In the first case, the accused stole a trunk containing cash and property worth Rs. 100. Gold and silver ornaments worth over Rs. 300 were stolen in the second case.

The accused was arrested on September 30 last. He pleaded guilty to the charges.

LOITERING NEAR STATION

Bengali's Arrest Has No Connection With Passing Of Viceregal Special

LAHORE, Nov. 17.
The "Civil and Military Gazette" reports that a Bengali "disgraced in the garb of a sadhu" was arrested on the wayside railway station of Harbanspura, six miles from Lahore on Saturday evening a few hours before the Viceroy's special was to pass that station, bound for New Delhi from Sialkot.

The Bengali was noticed to be moving in a suspicious manner by police officers on duty and offered no resistance when arrested. The newspaper adds that on his being searched "some articles were found which led the police to regard the Bengali's presence at that spot as suspicious in view of the approach of the Viceroy's special, but the nature of the articles found have not been revealed." The Bengali, it is alleged, failed to give a satisfactory explanation of his presence on the railway track.

No Disgrace.

A later Associated Press message from Lahore states:
With reference to "Civil and Military Gazette" story relating to arrest of a Bengali, enquiries show that the man was not disguised and that nothing incriminating was found on him. He was questioned when found loitering near Harbanspura Railway Station, seven miles from Lahore, and was subsequently taken into custody under the Vagrancy Act pending further enquiries.
It is asserted that so far nothing has been discovered tending to link the arrested man's presence near the railway station with the Viceroy's special.—A. P.

At 7-30 p.m. there was a public meeting at Napeo Hall when Sjt. K. M. Munshi presided and gave a lecture on the good aspects of Khadi, recalling Gandhiji's words in Gujarati Literary Conference, at Ahmedabad—that the poor workers in the villages must be fed first.
The meeting passed a resolution requesting the A. I. S. A. to establish themselves at Matunga at the earliest since the Khadi Sales Depot, which was an individual undertaking, had been declared closed.

QUEST FOR NEW TALENT

Preparations For Cricket Carnival In City Next Month

(Special To "The Chronicle")
With the approach of the Quadrangular all the Gymkhanas in the city are becoming very active and have set about searching for new talent to take the place of the veterans. There are still several of them who are indispensable to their respective sides but quite recently it has been found that several youngsters have come upto the first class mark and, with proper coaching, would do credit to their side.
The Parsi and the European Gymkhanas have engaged the services of Mr. Frank Tarrant, that veteran Australian, to coach their respective sides so that they cannot put their best on the Esplanade Maidan in December. It can be taken for granted that many new comers would be found taking the field.

QUEST FOR NEW TALENT

The Bombay (Proper) Cricket Association has also been doing its bit. Especially in view of the disgraceful failure of the Indian Tour in England, everyone interested in the proper progress of Indian Cricket seems to be doing his bit to get at undiscovered talent, so that one need not always fall back upon the few known cricketers. Mr. A. A. Fyze, the indomitable Secretary of the Bombay Association, though very anxiously engaged in the care of his father who is seriously ill has begun the quest for "new blood" in right earnest.

TRIAL MATCH

A match has been arranged to be played next Saturday and Sunday between Bombay Cricketers and a Hindu Representative Eleven. Ninety per cent. of those who will be taking the field on the Hindu Gymkhana grounds on Saturday will be "newly discovered" players, who have done well recently. Three of them were members of the Indian team that toured England and two or three of them are people who have taken the field on behalf of Bombay and India several times. One of them, Prof. Deodhar, has recently struck very good form and it is stated that in all probability he be requested to lead the Hindu side. The Patron of Cricket in Calcutta, the Prince of Cooch Bihar, will also be seen on the field.

THE TEAMS

The following are the members who form the rival teams:—
BOMBAY CRICKETERS:—L. P. Jai (Capt.), V. M. Merchant; D. D. Hindiker; B. K. Kalasani; B. R. T. Orer; A. D. Patel; M. Canteenwala; G. N. Lalji; K. J. Gharat; K. N. Divekar; and E. R. Wadker.
Reserves:—A. Peerbhaj; J. D. Khote; R. J. Hopkins and D. S. Talpade.
HINDU ELEVEN:—S. R. Godambe (Capt.), Prof. Deodhar; Cooch Behar; Champak Mehta; Bhagwandas; G. L. Patil; S. N. Mehta; S. C. Seth; Dr. Gurtu; P. J. Churi; and P. R. Dalvi.
Since the above contest is a sort of trial match, when most of the new comers are being tried, several of the well-known Bombay Players, like S. M. Kadri and Contractor whose worth is already well-known, are not being played.

LATE SIR LALLUBHAI SAMALDAS

Nizam's Claim As Second Mortgagee

High Court Passes Consent Order Recording Settlement In Pearl Mills Dispute

A dispute over the priority claims of certain employees of the Pearl Mills Ltd. (in liquidation) in preference to the claim of H. E. H. the Nizam of Hyderabad as the second mortgagee had a sequel in the High Court.
In 1932, the company gave a second mortgage of its assets to Sir Akbar Hydari acting on behalf of the Nizam. The mortgage was as a security for Rs. 5 lakhs advanced to the company.
For the benefit of its employees the company had started a Provident Fund which amounted to Rs. one lakh when the company was ordered to be wound up by the High Court in 1933.

PRIORITY CLAIM
After the liquidation, the Official Assignee sold the property of the company, and out of the sale proceeds paid Rs. 4 lakhs to Sir Akbar Hydari in part payment of the mortgage debt. After this, the Official Liquidator had only Rs. 1,19,543 in his hands available for distribution among the creditors.

On this amount a first-charge was claimed by W. Sutherland and others who are members of the Provident Fund of the company. They contended that they should be paid in priority to the second mortgagee as the amount standing to the credit of the Provident

Fund was held by the company in trust on behalf of them.
This claim was contested by Sir Akbar Hydari who, as the secured creditor, claimed priority over the employees.
To have this dispute settled judicially, the Official Liquidator made the present application to get the court's directions in the matter.

SETTLEMENT
At the hearing of the application, the parties came to a settlement, which, in his Lordship's opinion, was for the benefit of all absent claimants.
Accordingly by consent of the claimants appearing and in invitum against absent claimants, his Lordship declared as follows:
That Sir Akbar Hydari was a secured creditor for Rs. one lakh and had priority over the claims of the members of the Provident Fund. Sir Akbar, however, allowed the Official Liquidator to recover out of the moneys in his hands his costs and commission and then pay Rs. 37,250 to all members of the Provident Fund rateably and Rs. 7,750 to Messrs. Lam and Co., Solicitors, for payment of settled costs of the attorneys appearing for members of the Provident Fund. The Official Liquidator would then pay the balance to Sir Akbar Hydari.

TALK OF THE SUBURBS

(BY A SUBURBAN MAN)
As the suburbs are growing in prominence many changes are taking place, sanitary problems are being tackled step by step. At Bandra, now that the rainy season is over, drainage work is now in full swing and I understand by the ending of 1937 this scheme will be completed. With this scheme ahead there remains one more problem that is left to be tackled and that is providing more public latrines.
At present Bandra has only two public latrines, and both of them are situated in the Bazar-D'Monte Street area.
I understand that many applications were put by the villagers of Chery, Chimbai and Danda regarding the building of public latrines. This question I am told, was many times brought before the meeting but nothing was done.
XIII HOURS' ADORATION AT BANDRA
On Sunday the annual XIII hours' adoration of the Blessed Sacrament was held at St. Peter's Church, Bandra.
The Blessed Sacrament was exposed from 9-30 p.m. on Saturday for the adoration of the Night Adorers and was kept right up to the late hours of Sunday evening.
During the day it was visited by various leagues, sodalities etc. At 5-30 p.m. Rev. Fr. Soler S. J. preached an instructive and edifying sermon. Then a long procession made its way from St. Peter's Church along Hill Road, through the School compound where a benediction was given. It then proceeded via Waroda Road, St. Peter's Road entering St. Joseph's Church and returning back to St. Peter's Church ended in a benediction. The whole route was gaily decorated with flags and bunting and illuminated with lights of various colours and with over a thousand people formed in a procession, with banners and medals presented a unique sight.

IN AND AROUND BOMBAY

(From Our Staff Correspondents)

Lady Brabourne Home For Girls

On the 1st of December an interesting ceremony will take place at Umernacary which will open a new chapter in the history of that part of the city. On that day Lady Brabourne will unveil the tablet of the building which bears her name, viz. Lady Brabourne Home for Girls. Eleven years ago Umernacary was a grim fortress-like prison where men charged and convicted with various offences against society were jailed and even hanged. To-day Umernacary Jail is transformed into a large play ground. Cells are changed into blocks and an extensive garden is cultivated. The Umernacary Children's Home has, like a phoenix risen from the ashes of the Dongri Jail. During the last eleven years not less than 3,000 children have been admitted into the Children's Home, the daily average being 300 both for boys and girls. Now another building will be declared open which will be for the exclusive use of the girls and which is built through the generosity of the late Mr. Ramchandra Bhat and other donors on the site of the old jailors' quarters.

Young Men's Parsi Association

The sixteenth annual report for the year 1935-36 of the Young Men's Parsi Association, which will be submitted before members at the annual general meeting on Sunday next, reveals a slow but steady progress and justifies its claim as "a living organisation, wielding a great influence and control in the affairs of the community," possessing as it does a Managing Committee of active and enthusiastic young workers including Miss Perin Mirza, a well-known social worker and writer, and Mr. Hormasji C. D. Adenwala, as its President and Hon. Sir P. C. Sethna and Sir Cowasji J. Ready-money, as Vice-Presidents. Among its manifold activities, a passing reference may be made here to the work of enlisting names of Parsi voters for the legislatures. About 1,000 voters were registered. It has resolved to invite elders of the community to co-operate with the members of the Managing Committee to help the association in its cultural activities. The plan that has been evolved with that end in view will be considered at the next Sunday's meeting.
A Distinctive Feature
The essay and elocution competition, encouraged by the Association all those years, continues to remain a distinctive feature of the Association's activities. The journal conducted by it will henceforth be published in two issues; and it is hoped to make it a quarterly publication next year. During the year the Hostel run by it accommodated 12 students; and the sale of khaddar made was worth about Rs. 750. A sum of Rs. 1,143 was spent in awarding scholarships to about 30 poor boys and girls of schools and colleges, out of 45 applicants. The report closes with the mention of the Association's quota to the Co-ordinated Charity Trust Fund viz. Rs. 300. The financial position, though not flattering, is still satisfactory, in view of the fact that the deficit of the previous year viz. Rs. 713-3-1 has been reduced to Rs. 490-15-1.

INDIA'S NATIONAL LANGUAGE

Those who are interested in the question of making Hindustani the national language of India and the kindred question of using the mother-tongue as the medium of instruction in schools and colleges will find much useful material in the booklet entitled "Language, Universities and Nationalism in India" by Prof. Som Nath Chib, just published by the Oxford University Press. The author, who is a Lecturer in English at the Dyal Singh College, Lahore, writes with a full knowledge of the educational possibilities of the use of the mother-tongue as a medium of instruction and of the difficulties of evolving a national language in India in the present circumstances. He is rather sceptical about Hindustani being India's "lingua franca" in the near future. For, he says, during the last twenty years the tendency has been to Persianize Urdu and Sanskritize Hindi, and "as long as Muslims look to countries outside for inspiration and Hindus look backwards for antiquity and both of them follow a policy of aggressive communalism under the disguise of self-defence and safeguarding their rights, the idea of having a common language as a result of the fusion of Urdu and Hindi must remain as remote as the Greek calends."

Welcome Efforts

The picture is obviously over-drawn and one-sided and leaves out several forces that are already helping to popularise Hindustani all over the country and will surely help a great deal more in the next few years. The author himself admits in his final summing up that "a national Government in India could do a great deal to achieve this ideal" and that "by making Hindustani compulsory in all primary schools in India, by a free distribution of educational films in Hindustani and through a national broadcasting system, it may be possible for us to talk of Hindustani as a real language in a short period of twenty years." A national Government cannot be long in coming and when it comes it will not fail to do its duty by Hindustani. But even now the earnest efforts that are being made in various parts of the country to popularise Hindustani are slowly bearing fruit. The tendency to make Hindi and Urdu too classical is, fortunately, confined to few authors and cannot last long in the face of the demand from the people for simple literature. The cinema, the radio and the press are also powerful agencies in popularising Hindustani, that is a version of Hindi and Urdu that is intelligible to the common people. Sheer necessity, political and cultural, will compel the nation to evolve soon a national language. That language cannot but be Hindustani.

The Mother Tongue

The author is a staunch champion of the vernacular medium of instruction in colleges as well as in schools. The imposition of a foreign medium, he says, is "not only a farce, but a fraud perpetrated on unsuspecting millions." Mr. H. N. Brailsford, who writes an appreciative Foreword to the book, says on this subject: "One language only holds the key to our emotions; one language only conveys to us, surely and instinctively, the subtler overtones of suggestion which its words possess. That is the language that we used at our mother's knee; the language of our first prayers and our first spontaneous outbursts of joy or grief. To make any other the vehicle of education is not merely to add immeasurably to the pupil's labour. It is to lame his mind in its freedom of movement." The use of the mother tongue as a medium in schools is now recommended by all sensible educationists in India. And the success of the Osmania University and the Women's University of Poona hold out the hope of the early use of the vernacular medium even in colleges. Prof. Chib regards this question as more urgent than that of evolving a national language and says: "Our immediate concern should be to replace English by our Indian vernaculars in so far as English is the medium of instruction in schools and colleges. After carrying out in full, not before, this programme of vernacularization, if the non-Hindustani provinces start teaching Hindustani (in what script?) in the primary schools as a second language, they would be taking a step in the right direction." We do not see why popularising Hindustani in any form should be delayed till English is replaced by the mother-tongue as the medium of instruction in colleges as well as in schools. As regards the author's query about the script, it does not matter which script, Nagari or the Persian, is used to begin with, but it is best to teach both scripts to each student. To teach a new script to a student of about ten years is a question of but a few days rather than of weeks.

"Somewhat Difficult!"

As we had expected, Mr. Anthony Eden has regretfully but most mildly suggested his displeasure at Germany's repudiation of the Versailles clauses of the Treaty of Versailles. Mr. Eden admits that this is only another of the unilateral actions which Germany habitually commits. He also admits that such action was taken by Her Hitler when "discussions were proceeding" about these clauses and "despite the assurances given by Her Hitler last year" that revision of the clauses would be carried by "peaceable understanding." But he is not prepared to face the logical conclusion of his own criticisms, the very obvious and simple fact that a man or a State which deliberately and habitually and despite assurances flouts and outrages international obligations is an international outlaw. Mr. Eden refuses to face this fact, ignores past history and still hopes, with a persistence which is really offensive, for the best. All that he says is that "an action of this character must render somewhat difficult the conduct of international relations" (our italics). Is the British Cabinet suffering from lack of courage or from an excess of sneaking admiration for Fascists and their treatment of the principles of international relationship?

Commendable Advice

The sentiments expressed by Mr. J. D. Boyle, the President of the European Association, before a gathering of the Bombay European community on Monday, were very commendable. He advised his hearers properly to appreciate the rights and duties of Indian citizenship, and to cultivate the co-operation and good-will of other parties. Mr. Boyle rightly observed that most of them were resident in India for a large part of their lives and as such "we must regard the internal interests of India as of primary importance." The bird-of-passage mentality of the average European is, of course, notorious and his aim in his sojourn in India seems to be to gather as many "plums" as possible. If this outlook gives place to a more enlightened one, none will be gladder than the Indians themselves. Indian nationalism is not based upon hatred, and if the Europeans instead of relying upon various reservation and safeguards had depended upon the co-operation and good-will of the people of this country, they would certainly not have been losers. Though Mr. Boyle's observations may thus appear slightly belated, we welcome them for what they are worth. After all, it is never too late to mend.

FROM ACROSS THE SEAS

Gleanings From The World Press

(By Our London Correspondent.)

The anointing of King Edward VIII.—the most important part of the Coronation ceremony—will be carried out next year with pure olive oil.

The oil, which will previously have been consecrated, will be placed by the Archbishop of Canterbury upon the King's head, breast and palms. As soon as the ceremony has been completed, the King will become the "Lord's anointed." The ceremony of anointing is the most solemn and impressive part of the Coronation ritual. The King will remove his crimson robes, and will take his seat in King Edward's Chair, while four Knights of the Garter hold a golden pall over him.

A spoon containing consecrated oil poured from the golden Ampulla by the Dean of Westminster, will be handed to the Archbishop, who will then carry out the anointing. The spoon is the oldest article in the Regalia, and has been in use since the Fifteenth Century. The oil to be used at the ceremony will be of considerable value, as it is the only oil that has been used in pre-Hanoverian days. There were, for example, nine ingredients in the "chrism" used at the Coronation of King Charles the First.

Mr. Justice Swift does not know the plural of mongoose. Most people when asked would say "mongeese." They would be wrong though the Oxford English Dictionary gives little guidance on the point.

The nearest approach it makes to committing itself is an oblique reference to the plurals "mongooz or mongous" (1838) and "mungoes" (1859). An American dictionary calls mongooz or mungoes (mongeese), which is probably right.

Mr. Arthur Bryant, the historian, who keeps a mongoose as a pet at his country house where he terrorises nine cats, an Alsatian and most visitors when asked what he would call them if he got a companion for his mongoose replied: "Mongeeze. I expect, but I should not, anyway." Once bitten, twice shy?

Defamation is defined by law as anything calculated to hold a person up to hatred, ridicule, or contempt. Defamation by any printed or written words or pictures is libel; by spoken words or gesture is slander.

This is not only a difference between libel and slander. Libel is considered greater offence, owing to wider circulation and permanence of the written or printed word. Hence criminal action can be brought for libel, leading on conviction to fine or imprisonment. In slander, action does not lie unless plaintiff can prove that he has suffered actual loss. Four exceptions to this rule: (1) where alleged slander imputes a crime punishable by imprisonment or worse; (2) where contagious or infectious disease is imputed; (3) where the words are spoken of, and reflected on a man in the way of his office, profession or trade; (4) where the words impute adultery or unchastity to a woman or a girl.

New honorary degree D. I. ("Designer for Industry") created by the Royal Society of Arts adds to the list of less well-known degrees.

What is a B. Sc. (H. and S. S.), a B. A. (Admin.), a B. Sc. (Ext. Man)? They are degrees in Household and Social science, available to internal students at London University, in Administration (Manchester), and in Estate Management (London External students) B. Sc. (Ind. Ferm.) is the holder of a Birmingham degree in Industrial Fermentation, and B. Sc. (Hort.) is a gardening expert from either London or Reading Universities.

Some American degrees make these look rather colourless. In Indianapolis a degree can be obtained after a course designed to train students for happy married lives; and a woman student got a Chicago University M. A. for a thesis on dishwashing.

Mr. Maxton has informed the House of Commons that he and Mr. John McGovern are visiting Paris to see representatives of the Spanish Government. He added, "If they ask me to go to Spain and fight I will go to Spain."

However, Mr. Maxton is not going to Spain. Mr. McGovern is. He hopes to leave for Madrid in a few days. He is going first to France to meet Julian Gorkin, the leader of the Spanish Workers' Party, and he hopes to reach the front and see the fighting. It is (Continued on page 5, column 3.)

Germany And Colonies

Goering And Goebbels Revive Propaganda

(From Our Own Correspondent)

PRAGUE, Nov. 5. Two speeches in Berlin last week by General Goering, the Air Minister of Germany, at a meeting held in connection with the new Four Year Plan announced by Herr Hitler at the recent Nuremberg Congress and for the carrying out of which Goering has been appointed Directing Head equipped with extensive powers, and the other by the Propaganda Minister, Dr. Goebbels, at a celebration gathering of the Nazi Movement, have attracted much attention.

Revival Of Colonial Claims

A central idea in both the speeches constituted Germany's claim for colonies. The claim was advanced with much directness by both. Interest in this has been enhanced by the fact that it was only a short while back that a certain check was reported to have been set to the propaganda for colonies, presumably under suggestions from Herr Von Ribbentrop, the new German Ambassador to London. The revival of the claim for territorial expansion with reference as well to the old colonial possessions is now looked upon in different circles as carrying the impress of the added economic rigour in Germany, extension of military revivalism, and Italian-German conversations of recent date. General Goering, in a speech the vigour of which, unlike perhaps the full economic soundness of it, will not be questioned by any, referred to the "stolen" colonies and with some pointed comparisons with England, declared that Germany would not be in a state of such rigour if she had colonial possessions representing in extent at least a part of that held by Britain. General Goering pictured a course of vigorous moves and rigorous measures to meet a situation of great economic tightness.

Goebbels' Threat

The Propaganda Minister, Dr. Goebbels, was more glib in his references. He declared: "We will certainly take up our fight for colonies. We will not allow ourselves to be argued against it. When to our repeated claims English papers state it is open to us to buy raw products, it is really an insulting reply. Do these English writers look upon the German people to be so stupid as not to know that we have no other currency to buy them? Most certainly we must have raw products and when we do not possess them in our own land, we must be allowed to participate in the wealth of the world. We do not want a war. But our way in the world shall not then be hindered." Dr. Goebbels' speech indicated well the bearing on German foreign political attitude of the attention to military expansion in connection with which close care is also being given to the development of "autarchy" or self-sufficiency. Viewing the issue primarily from the economic side, papers in certain centres ask: why then should not a similar claim be urged also by others and territorially smaller States, but with advanced industrial development and limitations in regard to sales and supplies. The weight of the economic demands of Germany, as indeed of various other States in certain directions, cannot be easily overlooked or lightly dismissed. Close concentration to military expansion, seen as means of asserting these demands as well, at the same time, intensifies the economic rigour. Anyway, the factor of German territorial urge determined by the prevailing state and system stands seeking outlets of expansion. Resistance from one side leads to approaches in other quarters. As one paper, surveying German aims in regard to Europe, especially Eastern Europe, and care for over-sea holds, puts it, a change in sequence is brought about. For many important Nazi leaders the care for over-sea possessions is a new one and it represents the dynamics of a situation.

French Radicals And Popular Front

The annual Congress of the French Radical Party is an event of much interest and importance.

In view of the significant position long held by that Party in France there was more than usual interest in this year's Congress, that concluded last week, since, although the Radical Party is not now the strongest one, it still holds a key position in the present Government, and on account also of certain currents inside it against the line of "Popular Front" that came greatly to prominence on the opening day of the Congress. Perhaps an exaggerated significance came to be attached to the strength of the section associated with these currents inside the Radical Party, owing, as it turned out subsequently, largely to the way the delegates were returned and many new members were recruited. In connection with the latter some conservative forces, as reports have it, had been actively at work. There is at the same time no ignoring the extension of watchfulness on the part of certain groups inside the Radical Party towards keener tendencies associated with the other parties inside the "Popular Front." In the foreign sphere the Franco-Russian Pact has not exerted so much influence on this. The Congress in affirming certain attitudes of the Party to internal issues decided to continue support to the present Government. An emphasis of reserve towards Communism, however, has been thrown, which also had expression in a critical speech on the Government by M. Thorez.

The Spanish Struggle

The civil war in Spain is now at an acute stage. A concentrated fight is in process round Madrid. The Government forces have recently recorded some victories. There is, however, as yet no assurance of their being sufficient to hold up the campaign of the insurgents to advance on Madrid. The latter are seen as holding marked superiority especially in regard to air forces which incidentally is taken as reflective of the extended aid received by them from outside, principally Italy and Germany. The fall of Madrid, as should be, happens now, as (Continued on page 13, col. 3.)

FRANKLY SPEAKING

A SINISTER REPORT.

Japanese activities in China and on the Russo-Japanese front and Nazi outbursts against Soviet Russia lend very sinister significance, indeed, to the report that an anti-Communist Treaty is about to be concluded between Japan and Germany. Japan has not only been indulging in pinpricks against Russia, but, of late, she has also been taking serious note of Russian successes in the International field. This, possibly, has led to the conviction that, if Russia has to be struck at, it must be soon, otherwise it would be simply too late. Nazi and Japanese anti-Russian hostility and designs being mutually complementary, both seem to have decided that the time has come to arrange for the big stroke. Hence, the treaty, the dangerous nature of which is not obscured, but vividly revealed, by energetic censorship on any news relating to it.

SOUTH AFRICA'S GOVERNOR-GENERAL

British Imperialists will probably be deeply agitated by the appointment of a South African Minister as the next Governor-General of the Union of South Africa. For, they will regard it as breaking another chain that binds South Africa to Britain as an inferior to a superior. They will doubtless be right. The appointment shows, as it did in the case of the Irish Free State, that the Dominions are almost co-equal with Great Britain and certainly not subservient to the latter. But that is the logic of the Statute of Westminster. General Hertzog has been unable, whether by design or by force of circumstances, to sever the British connection according to the intentions he used to proclaim some years ago. He has, however, done the next best thing: gradually established the virtual freedom of South Africa from Britain's control in any shape or form.

CONGRESS DATES

With regard to the suggestion that has come from some responsible quarters that the dates of the Congress session may with advantage be slightly altered, Mr. Shankarrao Deo, Chairman of the Reception Committee, has appealed to the Congress President not to alter the dates fixed by the Committee after careful consideration, namely, December, 26, 27 and 28. He urges that the dates have been chosen as being most convenient to villagers and as admitting of sessions on moonlight nights and that arrangements have already been made with the Railway authorities for special trains for those days. In view of these important considerations it seems inadvisable to alter the time-table considerably except for strong compelling reasons.

INDIANS IN COLONIES.

Whenever the Government of India are pressed in the Legislative Assembly to do something for Indians living in British colonies, it is usual for the spokesmen on the Treasury Benches to give vague assurances that things are not so bad as made out by the Opposition and that they would make further enquiries to ensure that no injustice was done to Indians in colonies. How far Government's optimism is unjustified is proved by a statement issued by the General Secretary of the Indian Colonial Association. He refers to the statement on this subject laid on the table of the Assembly during its last session in which the Government said about New Zealand that "there was no restriction of entry into that country if the formalities regarding the possession of a valid passport are fulfilled" and quotes from the letter of an Indian gentleman from Adelaide which absolutely blows up the Government's apology. It appears that not only are Indians refused permission to land, if they intend to settle down there but on them even if they are on a short visit. This is the testimony of a man who has first-hand information. We should like to know what the Government have to say about it.

NOT AMBITIOUS ENOUGH

It is amazing that any responsible member of the Bombay Municipal Standing Committee could object to the Commissioner's Budget as being too ambitious. A more reasonable criticism would be that it is not ambitious enough as, among other serious omissions, it makes no provision for alum clearance and extension of compulsory education. Prof. S. R. Davar's suggestion for a further reduction in the general tax, cannot be seriously considered unless he suggests a better alternative to meet the necessary and growing expenditure of the Municipality. At the same time we must re-emphasize our view that no schemes of further taxation should be considered till the possibilities of retrenchment in the administrative expenditure are exhausted.

New Excise Rules In

The Nizam's State

To The Editor of "The Chronicle". Sir,—The rules regarding stocking and selling of spirituous goods very recently brought into force in the Nizam State have caused a great commotion among the doctors, chemists and scent dealers. Tinctures, certain tonics, essences etc. all contain alcohol in some proportion. A license is henceforth necessary to stock any of these goods. According to the rules published in the "Deccan Law Journal", a license fee of Rs. ten is necessary for goods containing 20 per cent to 42 per cent alcohol and a fee of Rs. 300 for goods containing more than 42 per cent. As tinctures and scents contain more than 42 per cent alcohol, doctors and chemists and scent dealers stocking these goods are liable to pay this heavy license fee. The trouble does not end here. Every time spirituous goods are ordered from outside the State, a previous permit is necessary and to obtain the permit the person ordering has to calculate the amount of alcohol in the consignment to come and to pay the excise duty before hand. Those who have some experience of the State know how much delay is caused for trifling things and it would be no wonder if a month elapsed to complete the correct duty and to get the permit. This will have a deleterious effect, not only on the business of chemists Criticising the Bombay Muslim League Parliamentary Board elections a correspondent relates that Mr. Jinnah's promise that he would provide the right men.

Very laudable of Sir John Beaumont and Dr. Subbarayan. It must please the Mahatma to have no end to be vindicated in what really matters.

As to Major Britain-John, he will, we hope, regard the examination of the Committee's justification.

His Imperial Britannia has been unquestionably improved and established. Unfortunately, Lord Willington is no more Viceroy, and since his Lordship is Charles of the Order of St. Michael and St. George, couldn't he make the Major a C. O. M. G. if not a K.C.M.O.?

The excise of Rs. five is an addition to the usual custom duty of 5 per cent. The restrictions for stocking and selling spirituous goods and the double duty levied on them will tend to raise prices of these goods making the medical aid dearer.

The Nizam Government is very keen regarding the welfare of its subjects. It is trying not only to encourage indigenous industries but to introduce new ones in order that the people of the State may get better wages and prosper. Will the Government, therefore, reconsider their rules and alter them in such a way that they may not cause hindrance to the trade.

Spanish Capital, A Blazing Inferno Intense Aerial Bombing Continues

LONDON, November 17. Despite the unquestionable entry of the Spanish insurgents into Madrid over the Manzanares, information reaching London official circles indicate that Government has hundred thousand troops still engaged in the defence of the Capital and will continue to show stubborn resistance.

Government contemplates drastic reorganisation involving the abolition of committees and restoration of command by officers.

Another air raid began at 10-30 a.m. to-day with a number of planes bombing the centre of Madrid. The city had no sleep throughout the night with the unintermitted roar of intense artillery bombardment and huge fires raging including the blaze in the Savoy Hotel and in the neighbourhood of the French Embassy caused by a bomb falling on the Embassy roof. Stretcher-bearers could be seen continually passing, carrying victims of the raids.

Reuters correspondent with the insurgents outside Madrid cables the position as follows:—

Colonel Castellan's column attacking the University City is at right angles to the main insurgent line with its right flank in the lowest part of the University City and the left flank along the outer wall of Casa de Campo. Despite night and day counter-attacks by fresh Government troops, the nationalists have gained further ground towards West and Paseo de Rosales which is a long wide boulevard running towards the Northern railway station in the direction of the centre of the capital.—Reuters.

MOST FRIGHTFUL AIR RAID ON MADRID

MADRID, Nov. 16. The Capital's most frightful air raid, hitherto, occurred in the evening, with widespread destruction and very heavy death-roll.

The raiders rained powerful aerial torpedoes and incendiary shells, notably in quarter between the Atcoba Square and Caldeleon.

The Cortes square buildings were set fire to, including the provincial San Carlos Hospitals.

Lurid flames illuminated the sky.

That the enemy is within the gate is now definitely established. A column of nationalists, comprised mostly of Moroccans, penetrated the University City, inside Madrid, but left no communications unprotected.

The Loyalists fiercely counter-attacked and claim to have completely surrounded the invaders.—Reuters.

MANZANARES CROSSED

Indications that the insurgents have succeeded in crossing Manzanares, despite yesterday's dynamiting of the French bridge, are afforded by heavy fighting in and around the University City which according to an insurgent communiqué, the insurgent troops entered by Puerto Hierre, occupying a number of buildings.

To-day's offensive was preceded by violent artillery bombardment and air-raid over the western sector above the north station. The bombardment continued all day long, high explosives and shells landing in quarters every five minutes.

The greatest damage was done, but there was little loss of life. The firemen extinguished outbreaks of fire with shells bursting around.

Late last night and early this morning, the insurgents heavily shelled the working class quarter of Government batteries, which are still functioning and replying with vigour.

Government planes were also active and brought down a three-engined enemy Junker machine near the race-course and bombed the insurgents' concentrations.

Indians' Right Of Entry Into Burma PLEA FOR AMENDMENT OF DRAFT INSTRUMENT OF ACCESSION

(From Our Special Correspondent)

LONDON, Nov. 17. Mr. K. P. Mehta, Vice-Chairman of the Indian Merchants' Chamber of Commerce in Great Britain has written a letter to Earl Winterton drawing his attention to Clause Twenty of the Draft Instrument of Instructions to be issued to the Governor of Burma.

Mr. Mehta emphasises that the Clause contemplates wider power to the Governor restricting the right of entry into Burma of persons who are British subjects domiciled in India or subjects in Indian States.

Mr. Mehta reminds Earl Winterton that this is not in consonance with the undertaking given on April 10, 1935, by Sir Thomas Inskip, then Attorney-General and Earl Winterton's amendment only empowered the Burma Legislature to impose restrictions on the right of entry into Burma of unskilled labour only and that too after consulting the Government of India.

Mr. Mehta further urges Earl Winterton to get Clause Seven amended so as to provide for the appointment of ministers from important minorities in Burma as provided for in the Indian provinces. He also added the instrument of Instructions should provide representation and (or) nomination of Indians with Upper House at least the same proportion as in the Lower House under the Burma Act in view of large stakes which Indians have in Burma and of the great importance of their interests in Burma.

DISCHARGED; BUT RE-ARRESTED

CALCUTTA, Nov. 17. Benoyendra Roy Chowdhury, formerly a State Prisoner and later a detainee who was permitted by Government to proceed to Foreign countries, was arrested by the Special Branch of the Calcutta Police in a local hotel under the Bengal Criminal Law Amendment Act.

As, however, the evidence against him was weak, he was discharged by the Chief Presidency Magistrate on the prayer by the police.

He, however, was immediately rearrested under the same Act. It is alleged that Roy Chowdhury proceeded to Germany last year, but subsequently managed to return to India without the knowledge of the authorities.

LONDON, Nov. 16. Moving the second reading of the Public Order Bill prohibiting the wearing of political uniforms in public, Sir John Simon said that the Government invited the Commons to co-operate by passing the Bill without delay. There was serious public nuisance to be dealt with in growth of groups, sometimes in uniforms and sometimes carrying weapons, who by bearing and insulting and behaviour, organised rowdism and were threatening to undermine the foundations of British liberty.

Bombay Delegates To Faizpur Congress

General Elections Postponed
Due To Abnormal Situation
In City

In view of the abnormal situation in the city due to the communal tension, the Bombay Provincial Congress Committee, which met at the Congress House on Tuesday evening, decided to postpone the general election of delegates to the Faizpur Session of the Indian National Congress till the situation improved.

The B. P. C. C. also decided that the President of the Congress be requested that in case the situation in the City prevented the holding of the general election before the Faizpur session, the sitting members of the B. P. C. C. and the A. I. C. C. should be allowed to function in that capacity till the general election might be held on a suitable occasion.

Mr. K. F. Nariman was in the chair.

Mr. S. K. Patil moving the above proposition, said that the situation in the city, at least in two or three wards, had not improved in any way and would come in the way of holding elections. He said that the President and the Working Committee of the Congress had extraordinary powers to deal with abnormal situations like the one concerning the B. P. C. C.

Mr. I. S. Patel seconded the proposition.

Mr. Yusuf Meherally thought that the B. P. C. C. should not extend its own life. He suggested that the B. P. C. C. should meet next week to find out if it was not possible to hold the general elections before the Congress met at Faizpur. He also moved an amendment to the effect that in case the General Election was not possible, the B. P. C. C. as at present composed, should be the delegates to the Faizpur Congress, but the A. I. C. C. members should be elected afresh by the present B. P. C. C. for the purpose of the Faizpur session only.

Mr. Meherally further suggested that the President should be requested to authorise the present B. P. C. C. to vote in the election of the Congress President, which has to take place on 6th December.

Mr. M. R. Masani seconding the amendment said that it would not be proper not to hold fresh elections to the A. I. C. C. the minority party had a chance to get one of them elected.

Messrs. I. S. Patel, also spoke on the propositions and amendments. Mr. Meherally, at this stage, moved for the adjournment of the meeting to December 6. The motion was defeated.

Mr. Patil's proposition was then accepted and the meeting adjourned 'sine die'.

CORONATION DECORATIONS

Temporary Duty On British Imports

(Special Cable.)
LONDON, November 16. A temporary duty of 100 per cent. 'ad valorem' has been imposed on Coronation decorations and souvenirs imported into Britain between December 15, 1936 and July 31, 1937.

The order applies to articles bearing representation of the King or a member of the Royal Family, any Royal emblem, any article or building associated with the Coronation, the flag of any country in the Empire or flags resembling such.

The Imports Committee say that no considerable importation of Coronation souvenirs has yet been developed but precautions are necessary to prevent serious loss to British manufacturers through influx of foreign goods at low prices.

The French and German Governments have agreed to waive their rights under the Trade Agreements, during the duration of the order in view of the exceptional circumstances of the case.

The Director of Information, Bombay writes: Representatives of the Bombay Chamber of Commerce, the Indian Merchants' Chamber and the Bombay Millowners' Association, together with the Sheriff of Bombay, were called by His Excellency the Governor to a discussion on the disturbance to the commercial life of the City occasioned by the existing communal tension and general feeling of unrest and uncertainty prevailing in the business centres. The deputation impressed upon His Excellency the necessity for not relaxing of the precautionary measures now being taken by Government and put forward certain suggestions for further action of a precautionary character.

In this connection His Excellency pointed out that Government was receiving large number of communications from commercial associations and other bodies with which it was impossible to deal individually. He, therefore, suggested that the gentlemen present at the meeting should constitute themselves into an informal committee who would be prepared to receive representations from the commercial community, consider them and forward to Government such information and suggestions as might help in the complete restoration of public confidence.

After some discussion His Excellency's suggestion was adopted.

WANT CURFEW RELAXED

It would appear that the Muslim leaders have made a representation to Government, requesting them to relax the Curfew Order during Ramzan. It is stated that the enforcement of Curfew Order causes a good deal of inconvenience to Mussalmans, who observe Ramzan and have to take food late at night while many of them take their food in hotels, etc.

Lion Of The Punjab

BOMBAY'S TRIBUTE TO LALA LAJPATRAI

The sterling patriotism and the immense sacrifices in the cause of national freedom and social progress of Lala Lajpatrai, the Lion of the Punjab, were recalled at a public meeting, held under the auspices of the Bombay Provincial Congress Committee, on Tuesday, at the Congress House, to observe the eighth death anniversary of the national leader.

A GREAT REFORMER

Mr. Nagindas T. Master, who presided, in paying a tribute to the memory of Lajpatrai, said that he was a great social and religious reformer. While he was a political exile in foreign lands, Lala Lajpatrai impressed the foreigners what the Indians were doing for political emancipation. He was also an eminent educationist and promoted the cause of vedic education.

At the time of the visit of the Simon Commission to India, Lajpatrai led the boycott campaign in the Punjab and the 'lathi' blow that he received from the police, it was generally believed hastened his premature death.

Lajpatrai had certain convictions and lived up to them till the end. It was his duty to pay his tribute to such a sterling patriot.

Mr. S. K. Patil said that Indians might not have forgotten under what tragic circumstances Lala Lajpatrai met his death prematurely. Lajpatrai was one of those great national leaders whose sacrifices for the country were practically unlimited. Those who could see the beacon light of such noble examples could follow in the glorious footsteps of such patriots towards the goal of national freedom.

Mr. Patil recalled a speech of

DELIBERATE ACT OF PIETY AND JUSTICE

(Continued From Page 1) the State. And it should be so taken and so treated by all Hindus of the State. To give it any other colour, will be to destroy its great spiritual purpose and effect. Let us hope that the example of Travancore will prove infectious and all other Hindu States will follow suit. There is no reason why they should not. It is the privilege and duty of a Hindu Prince to propound religious codes which are not inconsistent with the fundamental principles of Hinduism as derived from Vedas and which are demanded by the spirit of the times. This must be true of all progressive and living religions. This rule accounts for the apparent inconsistencies of different Smritis and also obvious departures from original tenets as even a careless student will detect even in the same Smriti.

THE IDEAL STATE If Hindu Princes do not perform this primary function, it is not so much their fault as of the lost Brahmanhood. If the Brahmanical spirit was restored, the Princes would be Rishis who would take from revenues the honest minimum necessary to support them as commission for their labours on behalf of the ryots and hold their revenues in trust for the ryots. They would not have private property as they possess to-day and feel independent of their ryots and their wishes. But whether we reach the ideal State outlined here, during the present generation or ever, surely there is nothing to prevent Hindu Princes from following the example set by Travancore and thus hasten the day of the total removal of untouchability from Hinduism and save it from certain destruction. I would advise responsible Hindus in every Hindu State to approach their Princes and their advisers to invite this overdue reform."—A. F.

SARDAR PATEL AT WARDHA

WARDHA, Nov. 17. Mr. C. F. Andrews saw Gandhiji yesterday and starts to-morrow for Delhi where he will report on Fiji and Ceylon. He will stay at St. Stephen's College during his visit but will be unable to address any public meetings. Afterwards, he hopes to go to Allahabad and Shantiniketan reaching the latter place about 26th inst.

Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel arrived here this morning. Dr. Khare is expected to arrive to-day. Sardar Vallabhbhai will be busy with the final selection of candidates from this province. Messrs. Ravishanker Sukia and Dwarka Prasad Misra who have accompanied Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru on his return from Mahakoshal tour are also staying for the Parliamentary discussions and decisions regarding their province.—A. HOMAGE TO LAJPATRAI

Glowing Tributes Paid At Lahore Public Meeting

LAHORE, November 17. The 8th death anniversary celebrations of Lala Lajpat Rai concluded to-day with a public meeting in the evening and the laying of wreaths at the foot of Lalaji's statue in Golbagh, opposite the Town Hall in the morning.

People of all shades of opinion collected near the statue and paid reverential homage to the great departed. Wreaths were placed on behalf of Dr. Gokulchand Narang, Minister, Local Self-Government, Rai Bahadur Mukund Lal Puri, various Students' Organisations, Seva Samitis, College Unions, etc.

In the evening a public meeting was held in the Lajpat Rai Hall at which speeches were made paying glowing tributes to the qualities of the head and heart of Lalaji and the sacrifices he made in the cause of the country's freedom. The speakers exhorted the audience to follow the footsteps of Lalaji.—United Press.

The re-election of Mr. Roosevelt will raise one problem when the inauguration ceremony takes place on January 20. Normally the retiring President, who is very often the defeated candidate, drives in the same open carriage or car as the successful candidate from the White House, to the Capitol. There he effaces himself while the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court administers the oath on the Capitol steps, watched by a crowd of 6,000 to 8,000 in the stands on the steps, and by perhaps 40,000 in front of the building. That he drives with the President-elect at all is due to the fact that he is still President up to the moment when his successor takes the oath.

Governor Landon has no such status, and is, therefore, not entitled to drive with Mr. Roosevelt. The only circumstance in which he would be likely to do so would be if Mr. Roosevelt as an act of courtesy asked him to accompany him. A recent precedent is provided by the case of Calvin Coolidge. As Vice-President he automatically became President on the death of Harding in August, 1923. He was elected President in November, 1924, and was installed the following March. He was accompanied on his drive by Mrs. Coolidge, General Dawes, the Vice-President, following in a second car with Mrs. Dawes. Presumably, therefore, Mr. Roosevelt will be accompanied by Mrs. Roosevelt.

TRIBUTE TO INDO-PERSIAN ARTISTES

Dr. Solomon's Lecture At Dariat-ul-Adab

(From A Correspondent) Dr. Yacub Synkwiewiz, the Grand Mufti of Polish Muslims was the guest of honour at the Dariat-ul-Adab meeting on Friday last held at 6, Thomas Street, Colaba, when Mr. W. E. G. Solomon, Director of Sir J. J. School of Art, read a paper on "some lesser known aspects of Mogul painting". At the outset, the learned lecturer remarked that he was not approaching the subject from the Archaeologist's point of view but from that of an artist who happened not to be blind to the fact that the term

NO ALL-INDIA TOUR

Mahatma Gandhi To Remain At Shegaon

(From Our Correspondent) NEW DELHI, Nov. 16.

I am in a position to contradict the statement recently published in Press to the effect that Gandhiji will undertake a tour of the country after the Faizpur Congress.

It is believed Gandhiji intends attending the next Congress Session at Faizpur but he will immediately return to Shegaon from Faizpur and stay there until probably May or June next year. Gandhiji will not also be able to pay his usual spring visit to Delhi next year.

Though during the last three years Gandhiji has regularly spent two or three weeks in Delhi just before or during the Assembly session every year it is understood that this time he intends to stay at Shegaon till the summer of the next year.

Art comprised both poetry and painting. He commented upon the interest shown in India in the artist's power of telling a story, whether in poetry or prose, and showed how it was reflected in the work of Indian artists from the ancient times up to the present day. After giving instances of the pictorial qualities exhibited in the writings of certain famous poets of the West and the East, the lecturer went on to deal with examples of subject "painting" of the Indo-Persian schools, contrasting the differences in style and methods of the Sereian and the Moghul artists.

In conclusion, the lecturer affirmed his opinion of the distinctive values of the Sereian and Moghul schools of painting and the fact that they occupied a unique position in the "Cosmos of Indian Art".

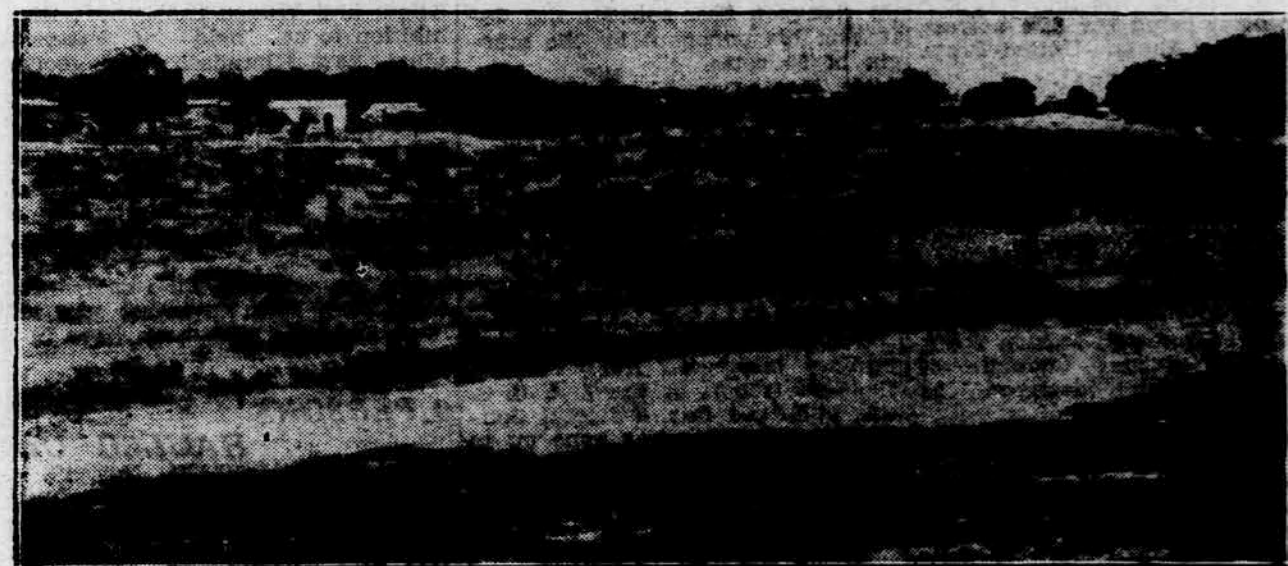

The lecture was very much appreciated especially by the Grand Mufti, who in a beautiful short speech wished the Dariat-ul-Adab every success.

TRAVANCORE'S BOLD LEAD

Bombay South Indians Congratulate Ruler For Temple Entry Proclamation

Mr. M. V. Venkateswaran of the League of Nations Union presided over a largely attended public meeting of South Indians at the Asthika Samaj Hall on Tuesday night. The meeting was held under the joint auspices of the South Indian Association, the Kerala Samaj and the Asthika Samaj to congratulate His Highness the Maharaja of Travancore on the Durbars proclamation throwing open all public temples in the State to all classes and castes of Hindus.

Mr. Venkateswaran said, the Maharaja of Travancore had taken a bold step which was in accordance with the traditions of the South. All great reform movements had found their leaders in South India. The Maharaja of Travancore had acted with consummate statesmanship and thus has given a lead which others might emulate.

The President then called upon Mr. K. S. Ramachandra Iyer to move the following resolution:—

THE RESOLUTION "This public meeting of the South Indians in Bombay offers its heartiest congratulations to His Highness the Maharaja of Travancore, Maharani Sethu Parvathibai and their advisers, for the great step they have taken in throwing open State temples for worship to all classes of Hindus, and hopes that other States similarly placed and British India will follow this noble example. "That a copy of the resolution be communicated to H.H. the Maharaja of Travancore by telegram."

Mr. K. S. R. Iyer said that a bold lead had come from Kerala which was described as the hotbed of the worst form of orthodoxy and conservatism. The ruler of Travancore had set an example which others might well follow. The Maharaja deserved all the good wishes and support in the action he had taken. Mr. C. K. Subramaniam, who seconded the resolution, described the Maharaja's proclamation as great one. By extending to the Harijans this long denied justice His Highness had earned the gratitude of the down-trodden people.

Mr. K. V. M. Iyer further supporting the resolution said that the action of the Travancore Durbar would serve as a beacon-light to others similarly placed.

FRINGE OF THE PROBLEM Another speaker observed that in praising the Maharaja of Travancore for the bold reform he had introduced by throwing open public temples in the State, to all classes and castes of Hindus, they should not forget the brave fight that the reformers had to put up and the tremendous sufferings and sacrifices they had made since the days of the Vaikam Satyagraha. Great is the reform introduced, it did not touch the fundamental problem which was one of social justice, economic opportunity to the Harijans and equality of status. Temple entry questions only diverted attention from the main economic struggle. Time was when such minor reforms could satisfy the people. But that was not to minimise the importance of the Travancore proclamation. The Maharaja had taken a bold step and he deserved their congratulations on it.

The resolution was put to vote and carried unanimously. After the President's concluding remarks and a vote of thanks, the meeting terminated.

URGENT NEED OF 2 LAKHS

Andrews Appeals For Guntur Cyclone Victims

WARDHAGANJ, Nov. 16. Interviewed regarding the Guntur District disaster, Mr. Andrews said: "While I have been staying at Wardha, I have been shocked by the account I have heard of the first hand of suffering to men and cattle that has been caused to villages of Guntur District by the recent cyclone. Mr. Sitaram Shastri has told me appalling details of this great disaster and if only I had strength to go, I would certainly have gone to comfort these poor people, but it has been quite impossible in my present state of health. Acres of fruit gardens of every description have been raised to the ground and standing crops have been completely ruined. Harijans and other labouring classes have lost their all with no prospect of any employment in the near future. Over 3,000 weavers are literally starving without either looms or houses. Farmers have lost their houses, cattle, fodder implements and the standing crop and their plight is pitiable beyond words. Thousands to-day have no houses to live in, no food to eat no work to do, no seeds to sow and no fodder for surviving cattle. The situation clearly calls for immediate relief. Seed, food, fodder and shelter are immediately needed.

"Since the total loss has been estimated by Government officers to be over a crore of rupees the least that can be asked from the gracious public would be two lakhs of rupees for immediate and urgent relief and further sums later. May I make an appeal in the name of suffering humanity for prompt relief measures not only in the form of money but also in the form of personal social service.—A. F.

HELP CYCLONE VICTIMS

Congress President's Appeal To Country

WARDHA, Nov. 17. Pt. Jawaharlal Nehru has issued the following statement to the Press:

"I have learnt of the great distress, which prevails in Guntur District and in some of the neighbouring areas, on account of the cyclone which devastated this locality. Thousands of houses have been destroyed, and I understand that hundred thousand people are in great distress. The Congress workers are doing their best to relieve this distress. I trust that people in other parts of India will give such financial help, as they can. For this urgent and deserving work, Mr. Konda Venkataraya is in charge and donations may be sent to him at Guntur."—United Press.

SATYAMURTI FOR BOMBAY

May Also Go To Wardha To Discuss Election Plans

MADRAS, November 17. Mr. S. Satyamurti, President of the Tamil Nadu Congress Committee, leaves for Bombay to-morrow morning by Bombay Express. During his stay in Bombay Mr. Satyamurti will meet Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel and discuss with him the arrangements of his tour in Tamil Nadu. He will also discuss the question of setting up Congress Harijan and Congress Muslim candidates and the general election propaganda throughout the country. Mr. Satyamurti will most probably go to Wardha to meet Mahatma Gandhi and discuss with him the question of the Congress Harijan candidates. He returns to Madras on the 24th morning.—United Press.

A PRINCELY FILM CORPORATION Are Indian Films Dull?

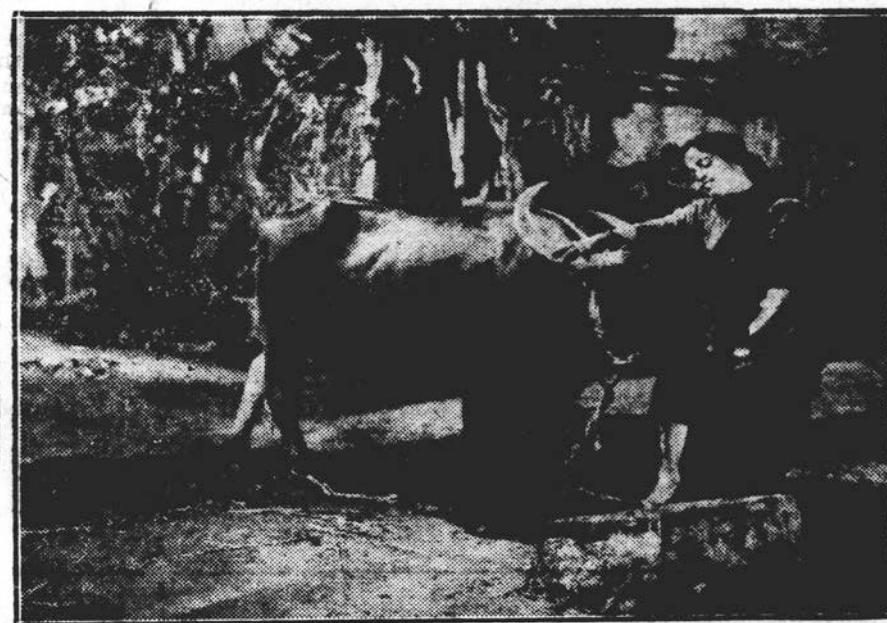

(CONTRIBUTED).

We have just been re-reading the prospectus of the Film Corporation of India, Ltd., registered in Bengal. Their prospectus is replete with every modern attraction, and winds up with a fine display of arithmetic of the imaginative variety, neatly set down on paper, to show a handsome profit. Perhaps we should understand, from the prospectus itself, that this is a sample of their "interesting stories both legendary and modern, written by specialists to suit public taste." For, it is all of that, and then some. Moreover and furthermore, the Corporation is under the patronage of no less than seven Highnesses, which is probably a world's record in princely patronage in these hard times, and may very well be a sign that there is money in it, or behind it, or at least, not too far away to be useful? We do agree heartily with them that Indian scenic and dramatic possibilities are practically unlimited, and as yet mainly unused. It would be as well for Indian writers and producers to begin using and to keep right on using genuine Indian customs, costumes, scenery, and ideas for their artistic and educational films. There is a good deal more in it than "educating" our own people, too.

Frankly Dull

ALL-INDIA LEAGUE OF SOCIAL CENSORSHIP

The Org. Secretary of the All-India League of Films Censorship writes:—

With a view and under obligation to check the growth of anti-social pictures and to stop such pictures from exhibition on the screen as are detrimental to the common interest of religious and cultural feelings of the people and more specially of those who are below fourteen years of age, preliminary meetings of the sympathisers was held on Saturday evening in the Arya Samaj Mandir, Mr. R. Agarwala presiding.

All those who attended sympathised with the object in view and confirmed the constitution. The following gentlemen have been authorised to devise means for the proper working of the League. Mr. R. Agarwala, Mr. Liladhar Shah, Mr. B. K. Sherman, Mr. Mahipatram Joshi and Mr. B. Nigam. The nomination of critics (honorary) who will write their observations for the League and for the All-India transmission for the guidance and benefit of the Cinemas, has been deferred and will be announced in due course.

"GRIHADAH OR MANZIL" Next Saturday At The Roxy Talkies

(CONTRIBUTED).

One of the most brilliant social super production from New Theatres Ltd. (Calcutta)—"Grihadah" or "Manzil"—which was postponed for the sake of unfortunate riot in the city, now will be released next Saturday at the Roxy Talkies, as the city is now returning to the normal.

"Grihadah" or "Manzil" is a powerful melodrama based on the novel of the same name by Sjt. Sarat Chatterjee, Bengal's foremost of writers. When you saw "Devdas", you were wonderstruck by the grim realism presented by your favourite director Sjt. P. Barua. Now you will see "Grihadah" which breathes realism and lifelike deftness. It is a story of a happy village house of an idealistic artist named Mohini whose married life and whose happiness were ruined by the poisonous fangs of serpent of malice. His heart's desire was Achala whom he loved more than his life. But there was his friend Suresh.... He was rich but troublesome. He thought that he loved Achala and then there was Mrinal who innocently, jokingly gets into the whole of the happy house of Achala and Mohini! Story develops in wonderful situation and the final climax is grand.

There are your favourite stars: Jamuna as Achala, director Barua as Mohini, Prithviraj B.A., as Suresh, and Mrinal as Mrinalini. You will be charmed when you see this wonderful drama coming to the Roxy Talkies.

There are marvellous song hits by Harimati Devi, Radio Queen and blind singer K. C. Dey. This charming picture possesses terse dialogues.

Don't fail to see "Grihadah" at the Roxy next Saturday.

SAGAR STUDIO NEWS

On the auspicious New Year day Mr. Hiren Bose started his new picture "Eternal Music" starring Mr. Surendra, B.A., LL.B., with Krishna Kumari and Miss Shyama.

Mr. Badami having finished his "Daughter-In-Law" is busy with the scenario of "Kokila" by Mr. Ramani Lal Vasantlal Desai, the famous Novelist; and Sabitadevi intends to tour certain villages of Gujarat in order to study the proper atmosphere of Gujarat village life, as she has to work as Kokila.

Sagar have purchased the right to present on the screen "Kashmiri Gulab," written by the famous Marathi Novelist, Prof. N. S. Phadke.

"MAYA"

Seventh Week At Minerva

One of the most cleverly picturized, directed and acted is New Theatre's social melodrama "Maya" now drawing crowded houses every day is running seventh week at Minerva Talkies. "Maya" tells of a story of modern conflicts of thoughts. Western ideology, Western outlook in daily life—while a sweep over Indian ideology create a scuffle between the two and there comes forth a dilemma in which both the parties are entangled and vainly try to seek its solution.

"Maya"—is an effort to throw light over this strange complexity. Serene was the object of Pratap who living in quite an ultra-modern society, comes across an ultra-modern girl. She was to marry Pratap. Can she give him that peace of soul?

Pratap (Pahari Sanyal) found place of soul in Maya—Maya who was but like a maid in the house of "Shanta." She was calm, cool and serene. A monument of magnificent. Pratap thought that only Maya can give him what he wanted. And he began to love her? But did Shanta tolerate this sort of affair with Maya?

There is your favourite director Sjt. Pramathesh Barua—who gave you "Devadas" how wonderfully he must have directed the remaining touching sequences! You can understand with what remarkable ease Sjt. Barua can handle his characters! And in this great picture "Maya," Barua is really greater than any other Indian director. So far as social themes are concerned, Director Barua has no equal in our Indian Film World. In "Maya" he gives us a remarkable climax.

About the characters you can rest assured that when there are stars like Jamuna, Pahari Sanyal, Azuri, K. C. Dey, Nawab, Jagdeesh, Harimati and Rajlaxmi.

Photography is brilliant, dialogues are touching and tense, music is charming and pleasant. You must not miss this touching drama of modern life.

"JANMA BHOOMI" GAINS POPULARITY

It Enters Second Week

(CONTRIBUTED).

It is remarkable to note the success of "Janma Bhoomi" in the city. It has been drawing crowded houses at the Royal Opera House since its release. During the Diwali holidays shows have been held throughout the day starting at 10-30 a.m. and all of them have been very well attended.

Another instance of the instant popularity which this picture has achieved is provided by the many choros songs which are an inspiring feature of the film and which are already being hummed and sung all over the city. "Oai koi aya sange, ham munda se jag" has proved to be the most popular of all.

The picture too, has a special appeal to students. In its theme which naturally finds ready response in youthful hearts.

STUDIO NOTES

Director Nitin Bose—I met him the other day at Studio No. 1 of New Theatres. He was busy rehearsing his players (Sajal, Lila Desai, Kamlesh Kumari, and others). The labour Nitin Bose takes to train his Artists is really marvellous. He leaves nothing to be told on the set. The players enter the set prepared and things start in no time. From last Sunday Nitin Bose has started his shootings on the interior sets, and now "Maya" being complete his picture will proceed in full speed. Both the versions are being taken one after the other, so that the Hindi and Bengali versions may be ready for release at the same time. After the stupendous success of "Bhagya-Chakra" and "Dhooop-Chhaon," Nitin is taking all precautions to maintain his standard. In the Bengali version Chandravati, Sajal, Amar Tullick, Lila Desai, Dargadas are main roles and all of them are confident of making a big hit. Lila Desai and Kamlesh Kumari, though new to the screen, will make big names for themselves in this one picture. New Theatres are famous for creating new artists and they will prove that they are very correct in their new finds for Nitin's picture.

Director Hem Chunder is busy in his rehearsals and he will in all probability start his shooting again in a few days' time. New Theatres' fans, who number in millions will be glad to know that Umassai is in the main feminine role of Hem Chunder's new picture.

OUR READERS' VIEWS

Democratic Swarajists

To The Editor of "The Chronicle." Sir,—President Jawaharlal's indictment of the Democratic Swarajists has been eminently justified by the proceedings of the party's conference held at Poona recently. It is true they have paid up sympathy to the ideal of Independence but that too is in instalments. The value of this is thoroughly lost by their intransigent attitude towards the Congress. These people claim that they are Swarajists and Democrats. The only proof which can justify this claim is for this party to be inside the Congress which has got a constitution enabling decisions to be taken after free discussion and by majorities. Instead of doing so, they have taken the unworthy role of mentors of the Congress which, in the words of Babu Rajendra Prasad, has always been in the right. Where an organisation like the Congress has a constitution allowing liberty of discussion and decision by majority, for any set of individuals to secede from it on the ground of their supposed superiority of leadership is sheer betrayal of the nation. The electorate will show them their proper place.

On the question of Socialism, in spite of all the efforts of the Congress President to clarify the issues, viz., that Socialism is to come after Independence is achieved and by a vote of the nation, the Democrats have chosen to whip up needless agitation against the Congress. I would ask them whether it is not sheer impertinence on their part to castigate the President's advocacy of Socialism when they themselves have not put forth any solution whatsoever for the problems of poverty and unemployment which are the normal lot of this unhappy land.—Yours, etc. V. SUBRAMANIAM

A Challenge To Pandit H. Kunzru

To The Editor of "The Chronicle." Sir,—I am really surprised, rather amazed, to read the following criticism coming from the lips of the President of the Servants of India Society, in the capacity of the President, the Agra Provincial Liberal Conference held on 2-11-36, on the Congress policy in the past. It is grossly untrue. Can he prove by any evidence whatsoever that "the Congress promised to do away with the Zemindars and the capitalists and hand over all their possessions to the farmers and workers. Such an attempt had resulted in bloodshed and revolution wherever it had been tried without ever proving successful and India could not get away from its consequences if it could be befogged to attempt it."

The words in quotation I quote from the "Times of India," page 20, column 6, last para, Nov. 7th, 1936. I am sending the copy of this letter to the proper quarters, to enable them to reply effectively to the gross misrepresentation rather than a libel on the Congress.—Yours, etc. C. C. PARIKH, B.A., I.L.B. Gujaratiwad, Dohad, Nov. 9.

Muslims And Assembly Elections

To The Editor of "The Chronicle." Sir,—I must admit I have not read without much surprise the list of the selected candidates adopted by Mr. Jinnah for the Muslim League. The other day when I read Mr. Jinnah's speech to the young Bohras at Bombay, I thought like many others that we shortly going to have much better days; but now one cannot conceal what is in store for us. Mr. Jinnah should not have created so high a standard, if really he had not gathered good material. We were quite content, left to ourselves, because we had upto now, let me tell Mr. Jinnah, made such choice, as had at least been able to represent the Bombay South Constituency with some pride. Mr. Jinnah himself has been our choice. Will Mr. Jinnah ask his own electors to be satisfied with Mr. Mohamed Ali Allabux or Mr. Mohamed Suleiman Cassum Mitha, by keeping his hand on his rise? If not, will Mr. Jinnah rise to the occasion and openly come forward, and tell us that he has failed, and we are free to do our duty? Sir, it is with no object of flattering you that I wish to request you to stand for our constituency.

At present we think that there is a great need for independent persons much more than ever before, since, unfortunately, those whom we have kept out have taken hold of men like Mr. Jinnah. I assure you Khojas, Memons, and Bohras alike will not go by their communal leanings. The city and the Southern part is wide awake and they want and desire independent workers in the cause of the country.—Yours, etc. IKRAM ALI I. SYED.

"Vernacular"

To The Editor of "The Chronicle." Sir,—The following extract from Pt. Jawaharlal's autobiography deserves mention:—"One of the legends about India which our English rulers have persistently circulated all over the world is that India has several hundred languages. It is an extraordinary fact that very few Englishmen know even one moderately well, in spite of a life-long residence in this country. They class the lot of these together and call them 'vernacular', the slave language (from the Latin verna, a home-born slave), and many of our people have, unknowingly, accepted this nomenclature. The Englishmen seem to be wholly ignorant of the fact that Indian languages have high literary merit and extensive literatures."—Yours, etc. HARJ PRASAD GUPTA. Bombay, Nov. 13.

A Query

To The Editor of "The Chronicle." Sir,—Would any of your readers kindly put me on to some literary and philatelic correspondence clubs, of reputation, in Great Britain, Europe, Africa, America and Japan.—Yours, etc. G. P. MERCHANT. "Moledina House" 144, Khoja Mohalla; Bombay No. 9.

Fireworks

To The Editor of "The Chronicle." Sir,—We talk of silent zones and noisy zones. Hughes Road and Babulnath Road may be termed temperate zones in ordinary times. They are prohibited areas in which poor hawkers and others are forbidden to proclaim their wares by word of mouth. Some residents of Hughes, Babulnath and similar other localities revel in and fiddle away with their Fatakas, Fatakis and big and small fire-brands all the night through. There is no cessation and no intervals. If you could go to sleep under such monstrous outrage and obstruction well you may, but the Negroes care two straws if you don't.

Human nature in its fulness is necessarily human; without love it is inhuman, without sense it is more inhuman still. In the absence of discipline and self-control it is most inhuman and sordidly cruel. The Negroes on our side think but little of human courage rising to the height of human calamity within almost a hand's throw. Our nature, I suppose, we inherit from our parents but our humanity which we are now wilfully making inhuman, we owe to our education and culture. We are governed more by our well-learned silken purses than by sense, rhyme or rhythm. To let off fire-brands and fatakas in reckless and risky manner surely does not come under the category of education or culture. It is a blot on humanity and a sad commentary on our much vaunted education and bringing up. Those who indulge recklessly in fireworks think but little of the pains and penalties they inflict on little children who are frightened out of their sleep and the weak and the age-old sleepless folks and those stricken with illness and maladies.—Yours, etc. M. M. BANAJI. Hughes Road, Nov. 15.

"Typical Servant Of India" BOMBAY TRIBUTES TO DEODHAR

Seva Sadan, The Soul Of His Activities Must Live, Says Mayor

Fervent appeals to ardently support the Seva Sadan—the soul of Mr. Deodhar's activities—were made by several speakers at the meeting held at the Servants of India Society Home on Tuesday to observe the first death anniversary of Mr. G. K. Deodhar. The Mayor of Bombay, Mr. Jamnadas Mehta, presided. Eloquent tributes to the memory of the patriot were paid by prominent citizens.

A LOYAL WILSONIAN
Dr. John MacKenzie observed that the late Mr. Deodhar was an old student of the Wilson College and was one of the most loyal of loyal Wilsonians. He had always looked upon Mr. Deodhar as one of the most typical products of the College. The late Mr. Deodhar was always animated by the spirit of service. "There are men," continued Dr. MacKenzie, "who set out in life to make a name for themselves; there are men who set out to make money or to win fame. Mr. Deodhar sought none of these. His one consuming desire manifested in his manifold activities, was service to his fellowmen. He was a typical 'Servant of India.'"

NOT A DREAMER
Continuing Dr. MacKenzie said that Mr. Deodhar was not a dreamer. If he was a dreamer, he was of that type of men whose dreams came true. There was something about him that disarmed criticism and opposition. He had an extraordinary capacity for friendship, he made friends with no personal ends of any kind. The speaker regarded him with admiration and affection. Dewan Bahadur K. M. Jhaveri and Mr. D. G. Dalvi referred to Mr. Deodhar's work in the cause of social service.

"SERVICE" HIS MOTTO
Dr. (Mrs.) Maini Sukhtankar said that the motto of the late Mr. Deodhar was "Service." He always diagnosed a problem correctly and knew the best way in which to solve it. The best way to give a start to the women's movement was by attacking one problem—women's economic independence. He started the Seva Sadan, which stood as a monument of his work in this direction. It was the duty of the people to see that the Seva Sadan was always kept going. Mr. L. R. Taree said that Mr.

Deodhar served on a platform of service. He refused to believe that Mr. Deodhar's work had been appreciated except in that hall. This was because he worked on a platform which never drew much attention. The speaker was sure that Mr. Deodhar would be considered in the future as one of the national heroes. Mrs. Avantikabai Gokhale and Mr. Mashruvala also paid tributes to the memory of the late Mr. Deodhar. The Mayor, Mr. Jamnadas Mehta, recalled the varied public activities of the late Mr. Deodhar. The scope of his life was his silent but unflinching devotion to national service.

BARDOLI ECHO
The Seva Sadan was the soul of his activities. But co-operation, depressed classes, famine and flood—these also claimed his attention. He had instituted a thorough-going enquiry into the Bardoli affair. He urged on the Government to yield to the demands of the ryots; he impressed on them that they could concede them with justice and toleration. Mr. Deodhar believed in service where it was needed and rendered it as very few could hope to. The Mayor said the Seva Sadan had altered the outlook of the women—even men—in the presidency. The people of the Bombay Presidency should remember that the Seva Sadan should live; it would be a disgrace if it was allowed to languish for monetary reasons. With a vote of thanks to the Chair, the meeting terminated.

NIZAM AND BERAR Nagpur Muslims Satisfied

NAGPUR, Nov. 17. A feeling of satisfaction prevails among local Muslims at the successful conclusion of the prolonged negotiations between the British Government and the Nizam relating to Berar. The recognition of the Nizam's sovereignty over Berar is beyond doubt hailed as a victory for Hyderabad, and the appointment of the Nizam's Agent at Nagpur to represent his viewpoint in matters of common interest in Berar and Hyderabad is considered a valuable concession for which the British Government is being admired by all sections of Muslims.—A.P.

WORLD OF SPORT: HOME AND ABROAD Worthy Examples To Follow

(By Looker-on)

A recent Press statement announced that R. W. V. Robins had been appointed vice-Captain of the M.C.C. Team now touring Australia and Allen had further chosen Robins, Wyatt, Hammond and Leyland as his advisers in the selection of the Test Teams. It is worthy of note that 'Bob' Wyatt, a former Captain of England, has allowed himself, in a truly sporting spirit, to be superseded in the matter of vice-captaincy, as in the case of the captaincy of the M.C.C. Team. I am particularly referring to this point as it has a special significance in this country. Whenever the question of appointing a Captain arises, whether it be for the Quadrangular teams, the Test Teams of any other team of a representative character, the claims of seniority at once crop up. Even if a junior player appears to be the fittest man for the position he cannot be appointed because the senior players would then stand down from the play. Wyatt has set an excellent example for the Indian players to emulate.

ALLEN'S WISE ACTION

Allen has done a very wise thing in appointing the advisory committee for the selection of the Test Teams. It shows how keen he is to regain the mythical 'Ashes' from Australia. By seeking the advice of the best judges among his men, he has created a tremendous confidence in the ranks. There is no doubt that it will engender complete co-operation and fine team-spirit among the players. I need hardly say that this will go a great way towards their success. Just imagine how nicely the Indian team would have fared in England had the Maharajkumar of Vizianagram done a similar thing. Of course as a novice he sought advice—not from his experienced colleagues but from Britain-Jones and E.H.D. Sewell with the result best known to the world at large.

M.C.C.'s DIFFICULTIES

Like the Indian team in England, the M.C.C. in Australia have to contend with several casualties in their ranks. This has undoubtedly weakened their compositions in the last two matches. It is hoped that the injured players will recover in time to play their weight with the team when they play their first Test match at Brisbane on December 4. Despite their early successes which were mainly due to the inspiring leadership of Allen, the grand batting displays of 'Wally' Hammond who, by the way, equalled Don Bradman's record of scoring four centuries in succession, and the fine team-work of the side, the tourists have not created much of an impression individually. Both in batting and bowling they seem to be lacking in the strength which helped Jardine to win the Ashes in 1933. Of course, it is too early yet to pronounce any judgment. Chances are that with the progress of the tour the players may find their true forms and acquaint themselves in the manner expected of them by their selectors.

FOOTBALL SEASON

With the conclusion of the Hinduistan Cup Tournament, the official football season of Bombay came to a close. The season has been a very prolonged one—from the beginning of May to the second week of November! I concede that it is partly due to the communal riots. But largely it must be attributed to the increase in the number of tournaments especially in the Northern part of the city. In addition to the three tournaments conducted by the Indian Football League and the second division of the Harwood League run by the W.I.F.A. Ltd. a new tournament was started this year by the latter, called the Junior Rovers. This brings the total number of tournaments in the North to five. Then there are the Nadkarni and Gessage Cups, besides the Harwood League, First Division, and the Rovers, played at the Cooperage. Nine tournaments in all for a big city like Bombay are not at all too many. In fact they are necessary for the improvement of civilian football in Bombay. But considering the fact that there are very few well-established civilian clubs in Bombay the number appears to be a bit heavy for them. They cannot afford the money, men and time to compete in all of them.

ADJUSTMENT OF TIME

It therefore happens that the smaller clubs enter in one of the other of these tournaments and take the assistance of those players who play generally for their office clubs. Or it may be said that these players play for their office and private clubs at the same time. Whatever it may be, the fact remains that many of the civilian players play in two tournaments run by the W.I.F.A. and the I.F.L. simultaneously for two different clubs. This leads to a confusion in the arrangement of fixtures and dates have to be altered and matches postponed again and again. I believe that a little adjustment in the time of the various tournaments would save this trouble and avoidable delay in future. I hope the authorities will do so before the next season comes on.

REGISTRATION OF PLAYERS

I understand that a Sub-Committee has been appointed by the W.I.F.A. to go into the question of the registration of players. I quite agree that all the players playing in the various tournaments should be registered. And no player should be allowed to change his club during the season without the specific permission of the Association concerned. To my mind a player should be granted transfers if he wishes to change his club at the beginning of each tournament. He should not be allowed to transfer during the League Season, except under extraordinary circumstances. As for a player playing for two different clubs simultaneously one under the W.I.F.A. and the other under the I.F.L.—I do not think it is advisable at the present stage of development of civilian or Indian football in Bombay to restrict a player to one club only. As both the associations keep a registration of their own no confusion is possible. In the interest of civilian football I trust the liberty of the players should not unduly be restricted so as to prevent or bar its natural growth.

Stormy Sequel To Cricket Match

(From Our Correspondent)

KARACHI, Nov. 14. The cricket match between the M.C.C. and Sind XI which started this morning had a stormy sequel. At 11-15 a.m. a 30-mile per hour gale swept over the field raising clouds of dust all over the place. When Amarnath and Wazir Ali were batting the dust storm became so severe that after a hasty consultation it was decided to call off the play. Disappointed at the unexpected development, nearly 1000 spectators rushed to the field standing in solid phalanx on the pavilion and demanded that the play should be resumed or that the entrance fee be refunded while others insisted on seeing Amarnath and Wazir Ali who coming out on the balcony assured they would resume the play after lunch. Finding the crowd still restive and trying to rush the police cordon, some Muslim leaders appeared on the balcony appealing to the crowd to be quiet and being reassured that play would be resumed the crowd melted off. If the dust storm persists the chances are that the match will be abandoned.

The election so far indicates that the topical question is office acceptance, and if it comes up for consideration, South India would plump almost en bloc in favour of it. It is understood that several delegates from districts have already proposed Mr. C. Rajagopalachari's name for the presidency of the Congress.

No Need For More Non-Indian Companies In India Protection For Indian Insurance

Committee Urges Strict Govt. Control And Deposit Regulations

The Indian Insurance Legislation Committee, which had been to New Delhi to place their views before the Law Member, on the Amending Bill to the existing Act on Insurance, seems to have succeeded a great deal in convincing the Government about the soundness of their proposals.

The members of the Committee, who stayed in New Delhi for a number of days, when their suggestions as well as that of the Special Officer Mr. Susil Sen were examined returned to Bombay on Sunday.

The members are satisfied with the success of their mission. They are confident that many of their suggestions will find a place in the Bill that is to be drafted.

Proposals For Protection

The following is the Report of the Committee in connection with the forthcoming Legislation:—

The Committee were appointed at a meeting of Indian insurance representatives held in Bombay on the 31st day of May 1936.

The Committee held forty meetings at which they considered the different aspects of insurance legislation and came to certain conclusions thereon which are embodied in the draft Bill.

It will be pertinent to point out that the existing Law on insurance was largely based on English Law. The conditions, however, prevailing in Great Britain were entirely different from those prevailing in India. The business of insurance in British India was then and is even now in its infancy. Besides, the majority of the people of India are illiterate and a still larger majority ignorant of the English language in which the Government Blue Books are published, and not in a position to protect themselves. In India, therefore, the Insurance Law in the interests of the Policy holders, should have provisions more stringent than those embodied in English Law. It is also necessary to establish in India a separate Government department of Insurance. The Committee have accordingly provided in the draft Bill for such a department. The Committee do not entirely endorse the opinion held in certain quarters that the best protection of a policy holder will be found in the publicity which will be given to the insuring Company's position as a result of the obligation being imposed upon it to make the statutory returns. The Committee feel that a measure of Government control is much more necessary and is essential in a country like India than in Canada, U.S.A., Japan and other countries. Government supervision in such countries has not interfered with the development and growth of indigenous insurance business and there is no likelihood in India of the business of sound and stable companies being interfered with by such a supervision.

GOVT. CONTROL

In the course of discussions at the meetings of the Committee, the Committee had before them Insurance Legislative enactments existing in almost all parts of the World and they have freely referred to these enactments. Their recommendations, however, are largely based on experience gathered from the working of Insurance Companies in India and the existing exigencies of the case.

The Committee are convinced that a measure of Government control is necessary over all Companies, whether corporate or incorporate, carrying on the business of Insurance in British India and they have, therefore, recommended a system of licensing which makes it obligatory for every Insurance Company, Indian as well as Foreign, to obtain a license from Government in order to enable it to commence and carry on insurance business in India. The Committee also feel that power should be reserved to the Governor-General in Council to refuse the license to any company even though such a Company is prepared to abide by the provisions of this Act. Such a power will be useful in preventing a company of a country which does not permit an Indian Company to do insurance business in that country from obtaining the license. Such a power may also be exercised against a Company which carries on business in a manner detrimental to the interests of the insuring public as well as other insurance companies. The Committee are of the opinion that it would not be possible to exercise proper control over companies unless a proper licensing system is introduced.

SUBSTANTIAL DEPOSITS

The Committee are also of the opinion that the proposed legislation should make provision for insisting upon deposits being taken from every Company, foreign as well as Indian, in respect of each class of business carried on by it, as at present practically only Indian Life Insurance Companies are required to make a deposit to the maximum of Rs. 2 Lacs, the minimum deposit being only Rs. 25,000. The Committee have, therefore, provided in the draft Bill that substantial deposits should be taken before the license is issued from every company, foreign as well as Indian, carrying on business of any class of Insurance. This provision will in their opinion, prevent mushroom non-Indian as well as Indian Companies from carrying on the business of insurance in India in a manner detrimental to the best interests of India.

The Committee have provided in the draft Bill that a non-Indian Company should deposit a larger sum than is required of an Indian Company in respect of each class of Insurance business other than Life. In the opinion of the Committee this differentiation and distinction is necessary in view of the fact that Indian Companies have got their capital in India. It might also give a little protection to indigenous Indian Insurance Companies from the inroads of some foreign Companies. Provision on similar lines is existing in several countries including British Colonies and Indian Companies as well as British Companies carrying on or intending to carry on business of insurance in such countries are required to pay higher deposits in such countries. The Committee are not unaware of the view expressed that such differentiation may invite retaliatory steps in foreign countries against Indian companies. The Committee have carefully examined this position and feel that there is no likelihood of any increase in deposits required from Indian Companies in foreign countries.

The Committee are also strongly of the opinion that so far as non-Indian Insurance companies are concerned they should be required to keep in British India sufficient assets by way of reserve to enable them to meet all outstanding risks in respect of each class of insurance business carried on by them in India and a provision in that behalf has been made in the draft bill. Indian companies doing Fire insurance business in the U.S.A. have to maintain such assets. These assets will safeguard the interests of Indian policy holders in the case of War or in the case of a foreign Company being taken into liquidation in the country of its origin for reasons not necessarily connected with the business of underwriting.

Provision has also been made in the draft Bill for the registration of Agents and Insurance brokers and prevention of rebating. Rebating is on the increase and unless it is immediately curbed it will undermine the financial position of insurance companies. The registration of brokers is necessary for the purpose.

The Committee have carefully considered the question of giving due representation to Policyholders in the management of a proprietary life insurance Company.

PROTECTION FOR INDIAN COMPANIES

Before this part is concluded, there is one very important and vital question to which a reference must be made. This Committee is strongly of the opinion that Indian Insurance Companies require effective protection, and provision should be introduced in the proposed Insurance Bill to ensure such protection. The said provisions have not been put in the draft Bill so far but a Chapter under the heading of protection requires to be added.

After the War, other foreign companies began to enter the Indian field. A group of Japanese companies came soon after the War. American companies came thereafter. A group of French companies also entered India and thereafter German and Italian companies also followed them into the Indian market. All these later arrivals came into India without any kind of local license. Their only chance was in offering enhanced commissions. It must be mentioned that as far as some of the well established foreign companies were concerned, they had a tied-up business which these new foreign companies could not disturb. They, therefore, attacked the connections which Indian Insurance Companies were able to form. The natural consequence of this invasion was that valuable brokers and agents of Indian Companies controlling substantial portfolios of premium, were offered by these companies excessive terms. These companies directly as well as through the newly engaged brokers approached the clients of Indian companies with offers of very high rebates, which compelled the Indian companies to offer competitive terms to brokers to retain their business. This naturally resulted in higher costs of acquisition. The Committee are satisfied that the high acquisition costs which prevail in India to-day leave in many cases no margin of profit to companies doing fire and general business. This view is also shared by the Tariff Associations in India whose membership consists of Tariff companies operating in the Bombay territory which include almost all British, Indian and Continental companies.

The Japanese companies after a few years' working retired quietly. The French companies also after a couple of years' working withdrew from India. One leading German Insurance company has similarly retired quite recently. Although these companies have gone out of business in India, there can be no doubt that they have done infinite harm to the insurance business in India in general, and to the Indian Insurance Companies in particular.

The Indian Companies can only grow and expand if the Government can give effective protection to them. In the first place non-Indian companies should be prevented from coming to India for quite a number of years. The business available in India is necessarily small and limited. The Committee, therefore, feel that for twenty years at least no new non-Indian Company should be given the license to do insurance business in India. This provision should be made applicable to Companies doing life as well as general business. There are already a large number of Indian Life companies in existence, sufficient for the needs of Indians. The new requirements under this Bill will necessarily control the number of new Indian companies in near future. The smaller Indian companies which will have to find the amount of increased deposits, should also be allowed to have time to consolidate and progress. This can only be done by withholding the issue of licenses to any new non-Indian companies for a period of at least twenty years.

In Japan and Italy it is very difficult, if not impossible, for Indian companies to get admission. The Committee believe that as regard Indian General Insurance Companies, tangible assistance should be given to them. The conditions in India are entirely different from those in other parts of the world. Effective protection should, therefore, be given to Indian General Companies. This can take many forms, and we suggest the following:—

(i) All insurance controlled by the Government should be placed with Indian Insurance companies.
(ii) The Government should require all Municipalities, Local Boards, Port Trusts, Improvement Trusts and other quasi-Government bodies and institutions receiving Government aid to insure all their properties with Indian Insurance Companies.
(iii) All industries which have received protection from Government in the shape of direct bounty or by Tariff should be required to place their insurance business with Indian Insurance Companies. This suggestion is in harmony with

KISAN STOPS JAWAHAR'S CAR

Prostrates Before Vehicle
Demanding Assurance
For Peasants

NAGPUR, Nov. 17. Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru reached Wardha last evening after a brief tour of Chattisgarh District in the course of which he addressed four well-attended meetings and exhorted the people to vote for Congress candidates in the elections to the Provincial Assembly.

An incident occurred when the Pandit was proceeding by car to Mungeli. One Gajadhar Sahu prostrated himself on the road in front of Pandit Nehru's car which had to be stopped. Sahu wanted an assurance from Pandit Nehru that peasants alone would be sent to the Provincial Assembly as Congress nominees since the Congress professed to work for the betterment of Kisans of the country.

Despite persuasion Sahu did not move and remained on the road. Pandit Nehru got down from his car and expressed regret from his car and expressed regret from his car and expressed regret from his car.

Thereafter the Pandit resumed his journey.—A.P.

Talegaon Peasants

Approve Kisan Manifesto

PIMPALGAON, (By Mail).

A mammoth meeting of peasants was held at Talegaon, Taluka Dindori, Dist. Nasik, on Thursday last, with Dr. Powar of Nandgaon in the chair. The meeting was addressed among others by Mahant Sitaramdas Sastri, Mr. Mokashi, Mr. M. R. Dalvi, Mr. G. H. Deshpande and Mr. Nimari.

Mr. Dalvi, in his speech, laid stress on the importance of establishing Kisan Unions on the lines of Trade Unions of workers, narrated the history of the A. I. Kisan Congress told how the workers got the grievances redressed through their unions and how it is imperative for the Kisans to follow the example set by the workers and exhorted the Kisans to join the Kisan Congress. He read the Kisan Manifesto published by the A. I. Kisan Committee on the 21st of August, 1936 and requested the audience to give its unanimous approval to it. The manifesto was unanimously approved amidst loud acclamations.

Other speakers exhorted the audience to give their support to the Congress candidates in the forthcoming elections as the Congress stood for the masses in India.

New Building For Prayag Samiti

ALLAHABAD, Nov. 16. Opening the new building of the Prayag Samiti last evening the Maharaja of Benares congratulated the authorities of the Samiti to have brought the growth of the institution so rapidly to the extent of possessing a building of its own.

He gave a donation of Rs. 1,001 to the Samiti, besides many medals and decorations to the artists of music.—United Press the following view expressed by the Tariff Board in their report in 1932. Unless the policy of protection results in the development not merely of the industries to which protection is granted, but also of subsidiary industries, it will have failed to achieve its full purpose.

(iv) All foreign insurance companies doing business in India should be asked to effect reinsurance with Indian insurance companies.

(v) An additional stamp duty on policies issued by non-Indian Companies should be imposed.

The Committee also suggest direct protection in the shape of compulsory reinsurance with Indian Companies of a certain percentage of all policies issued by non-Indian companies in India. Such a system of compulsory reinsurance is prevalent in some countries including the Irish Free State.

The Committee are emphatically of the opinion that for the very existence of Indian General Insurance Companies protection on the lines suggested here, is absolutely necessary. Unless definite provision is made for such protection, in the proposed Insurance Bill, there is no likelihood of the development of General Insurance business on National lines.

The report has been signed by Messrs. R.J. Duff (Chairman), H.E. Jones, K. Santanam, K. S. R. Iyer, Jivandas P. Duttia and J. C. Setalvad and K. O. Desai, (Hon. Secretary).

"WONDERFUL GOD-MAN"

Chinese Scholar's Tribute
To Sri Ramakrishna

SANTINIKETAN, Nov. 16.

In the course of a statement to the "United Press", Prof. Tan Yun Shan, the eminent Chinese scholar at present living in Santiniketan, who has been specially authorised by the Sino-Indian Culture Society to represent China at the Ramakrishna Centenary celebrations including the Parliament of Religions which is proposed to be convened at Calcutta in February next:—

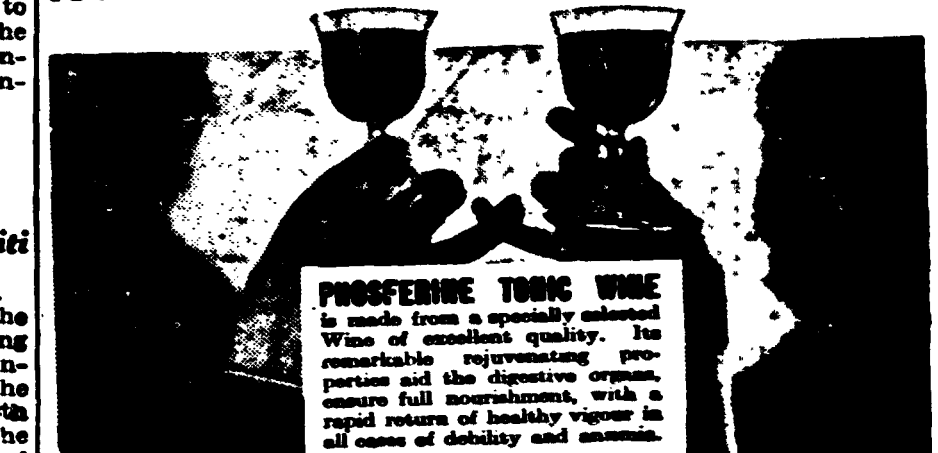

"Sri Ramakrishna was one of Modern India's greatest souls whose life a consummate expression of her inexhaustible spiritual possibilities. I offer with the millions of his admirers my tribute of deep respect to the memory of that wonderful God-man who practised and preached the great ideal of religious synthesis and the inner unity of mankind. The incomparable rhapsodies of his spiritual experience may well make an epic of the dynamic philosophy of life.

"The crisis through which the world is passing to-day and the yet darker days that are ahead, make it all the more necessary at the present moment to reiterate the message of harmony and oneness in the truth of which Sri Ramakrishna lived and had his being, and which was so eloquently proclaimed to the world by his worthy disciple, the great Swami Vivekananda.

"To-day as I remember Sri Ramakrishna, my mind flits across a distance of more than two thousand years when Confucius in China and Buddha in India preached a similar message for the well-being of humanity. The destiny of man has passed through so many changes since then; but its renewal into the creation for him of a happier social order based on universal peace and equality is yet to come; and it will come only when the teachings of these trust servants of humanity are understood and followed by every country in the world.—United Press.

Take Keen Interest In Indian Affairs

Mr. Boyle On Duty Of Europeans To Play Their Part In Reforms

"Every man in the street in England naturally takes a keen interest in what is taking place in Parliament," said Mr. J. D. Boyle, M.L.C., President of the European Association, at a gathering of Europeans at Green's Hotel on Monday night.

"That is what we are asking you to do here," he said and went on to point out how important it was that all Europeans should take an interest in such matters in this country.

Mr. Boyle felt that there had been a distinct improvement in the political consciousness of the European community and the enrolment this year of 222 new members might be taken as an indication of this.

"On the last occasion on which we met here I told you that I intended to approach firms and ask them without committing themselves, whether they would be prepared to allow if necessary arose, certain members of their staff to take a seat in the legislatures of the future. This was done in order to avoid the possibility of our being unable to fill the seats in the event of an emergency, and also because we intend by means of informal meetings and circulation of pamphlets to educate these potential members of legislatures, so that when they took their seats they would be fully conversant with the matters likely to be discussed in the House."

A Good Idea

"I may say that we were told on all sides that this was a good idea but that it would remain an idea. We have fought a hard battle, but I think that it may be of some satisfaction to you to know that, within the last six weeks, 14 firms of this town have sent in the lists that we require, three others have referred the matter to their directors, and a number of firms pointed out that they would be unable to allow anybody to go owing to the fact that they have a very small staff. This I think is a very clear indication of the appreciation by commercial interests of the vital necessity of using the representation which we have been given under the Government of India Act 1935."

"So far I have only referred to what has been done or is being done with particular reference to the interests of our community only. I should like to make a brief reference to the attitude which not only the elected representatives in the Legislatures will have to adopt, but also Europeans individually and as a community.

The European Group in the Council realised very clearly more than a year ago the necessity, if they were to play their part properly, for taking an interest in all subjects which affect the welfare of the Presidency, quite apart from whether they immediately interested the European community or not. I think that all sides of the present Council will agree that this interest has been clearly demonstrated and that the Group have played a useful and efficient part in the discussions on such subjects as social welfare and education.

Goodwill Of Parties

"This attitude, which may be summed up as the appreciation of our Indian citizenship, will be of even more vital importance in the future. In the Councils it will be necessary to co-operate with any party anxious to work the constitution and to co-operate with them in ensuring that for instance adequate finance is available for the new Government and that important measures for the advancement of rural interests are maintained. By such means shall we secure the goodwill of other parties in the Council."

"I can only remind you that it is upon goodwill that the whole of the Constitution depends. While the lime-light may be played on the Legislatures, it is of greater importance that every European in the country should also play his part. We are for the most part resident in India for a very large part of our lives, and we must regard the internal interests of India as of primary importance. By such an attitude alone can we ensure an honoured place for ourselves in this country and, what is of greater importance still, the happy and constitutional development of the country in which we are living."

After this political interlude, the "party" side of the evening was taken, and members and visitors enjoyed dancing and cabaret.

According to general opinion, is not going to be the end of the struggle. Already to a great extent, the attitude of opposition to the insurgents is Barcelona. There are estimates of fresh complications bound with prospects of the establishment of a Catalonian centre as a main base of check and resistance to the insurgents, and having Russian sympathy and with keen German-Italian opposition to it. It is wondered whether General Franco on his own resources will be able to control one section and carry a struggle against the other. For Britain, the position is complicated by apprehension of a radical change in Spain involved in the assertion of Madrid and Barcelona leading to a non-dual Spain on one side, and on the other, stand of factors implying addition of advantages of great value, touching the Mediterranean, to Italy with insurgent success. The Spanish struggle might well see important developments of far-reaching significance.

Carol In Prague

The visit of the King of Roumania last week to Prague has found a wide echo. The cross-currents at play in relation to the European situation, in which Central and South-Eastern European affairs occupy a prominent position, and estimates and certain speculations about the Little Entente, have considerably contributed to an extended interest in the visit of the Roumanian King to the Czechoslovakian capital. It is not regarded as an accident that the Roumanian King's visit to Prague, coincided with the day of Czechoslovakian anniversary and that the visit to the country in stages extended to all the provinces, Bohemia, Moravia, Slovakia and Sub-Carpathian Russia. The King of Roumania who was accompanied by the Crown Prince Michael and the Foreign Minister Antonescu received in Prague a very warm reception and the exchange of addresses between President Benesh and King Carol in the historic Rudolph Gallery of the Prague Castle was marked by very close cordiality. During the stay of the Roumanian King in Prague, important conversations were held in which also the Foreign Ministers of Roumania and Czechoslovakia participated. It is generally held that the Prague visit of King Carol is a demonstration and underlining of the intention of keeping well to the idea of closer co-operation and consolidation of the Little Entente. It is indicated that discussions in Prague also dealt with the idea of extending contacts between the States of the Little Entente and the Rome Protocol and understanding with Germany, consistent with the interests of a sound Central European settlement. Some surprise has been caused by the absence of mention to France in the communique relating to the discussions in Prague. The Manchester Guardian's Geneva correspondent is inclined to connect this reserve of the time with certain French apathy in ways allowed or enabled to be determined by Britain. The dominant factor emphasized by the Prague visit of the Roumanian King is the keenness of the Little Entente States to look more closely themselves for development and security and to further the scope of definite regional pacts implying, for the while at any rate, if not a detachment, at least avoidance of exaggerated dependence on the League.

view that they supported.

MURDER ON HIGH SCALE

"War Won't Bring Peace", Verdict Of Interesting Debate

"War will establish peace" was the subject of an interesting and eloquent debate held at the Blavatsky Lodge on Monday evening under the auspices of the Bombay Students' Brotherhood, with Sir John Beaumont, Chief Justice of Bombay, in the Chair.

Mr. Stanley Jenson in moving the proposition said that he was not in favour of war. He abhorred war. Having been through two wars himself, he knew of the horrors, the brutality, the bestiality and soul-sickeness of war. After dealing in detail about the history of wars, he said that nature insisted on the survival of the fittest in order to ensure a healthy race. It was essential to face facts instead of being merely idealist.

Realism was the one thing which was needed more than anything else. The armament race had been going on with full speed. Weak nations which trusted strong neighbours had been betrayed. Nations talked of disarmaments. The situation to-day, despite what the idealists might say was fraught with all the possibilities of war. It appeared that the demon of war was one of the ills that mankind was heir to, just like sickness and disease, poverty and private sorrow. Just as good could only be understood in contrast with its opposite, evil, peace could not be imagined in the scheme of nature, except in contrast with war or annihilation.

"MURDER ON HIGH SCALE"

Mr. Joachim Alva opposed the proposition and said that the peace that was being talked about was a mere mockery. The peace that could be achieved after a bloody war could never be stable. The masses did not want war; the mothers of the nations were not in favour of war and the youth were against war. Then who was that for war? He thought that war was murder on a high scale. Peace after "authorised" murders of the innocents was not what the world wanted.

Several others spoke, some in favour and others against the proposition. Dr. Maurice Laceron of Geneva, Messrs. S. Jaffri, B. J. Mistry, Shanbaug and Miss Mehta eloquently brought out sound and cogent arguments in favour of the view that they supported.

NEED FOR PEACE MACHINERY

Sir John Beaumont, Chief Justice, in his closing remarks, congratulated the speakers on the intelligent and eloquent debate. He said that there were two kinds of wars, one of the aggressive type and the other the defensive war. If a nation was attacked by any outside nation, that nation was bound to defend herself. He agreed that an aggressive war was an international crime. But where was the machinery to bring to book the offender. Till there was an International Police Force to put down such an aggressor, it was no use talking of it. Of course there were other methods of bringing to book the offender like economic boycott etc. The Chief Justice thought that preparation to face a war was the best method to maintain peace.

The proposition was put to vote and lost.

Miss Aloo Dastur proposed a vote of thanks to Sir John Beaumont, Mr. Stanley Jenson and the other speakers, which was carried amidst acclamation.

DEMAND FOR JOINT ELECTORATES

Oudh Women's Conference
President's Plea

LUCKNOW, Nov. 16. A strong plea for joint electorates for women for local bodies and legislatures was made by Lady Kailash Srivastava while presiding over the Oudh Women's Constituent Conference which opened this evening at Kaiserbagh Baradari Hall, Lucknow.

The coming elections, she said, were a most intriguing thing before women. While making the best use of a bad job, women should take the first opportunity to emphasise that they would agitate for their rights. They would fight for joint electorate, for more representation, full responsible Government and equal status in the comity of nations.

Referring to the local bodies she said they were the exact places where women should begin the experiment of joint electorates. She, however, urged for reservation of seats "for such time till men were able to forget their prejudices against women as women and treat them as colleagues."—United Press.

Jugoslavia And Turkey

The journey of the Jugoslavian Premier Dr. Stojadinovich newly to Ankara is seen as being very much in a line with that of King Carol to Prague, namely, affirming the course of a regional pact, in this case, the Balkan Entente. This carries with it an increased value or weight, since two members of the Balkan Entente, Jugoslavia and Roumania, are at the same time members of the Little Entente. The visit of the Jugoslavian Premier to the Turkish capital is, as such, well welcomed in Prague and Bucharest as strengthening simultaneously the conception of closer understanding between the Balkan Entente and the Little Entente. At a meeting in Ankara in honour of Dr. Stojadinovich, the Turkish Premier, General Ismet Inonu, spoke enthusiastically of the Balkan Entente and emphasized the necessity and value of regional pacts. The Jugoslavian Premier in an interview to a leading Roumanian daily referred to Jugoslavia, Roumania, Czechoslovakia and Turkey as a "firm chain in the development of Balkans and Central Europe." The care to the idea of the Balkan Entente is also reflected in the departure this week of the Chief of the Turkish General Staff, Marshal Fevzi Tschamak, to the Roumanian capital.

NO "MADHE SAHABA" AGITATION?

Sequel To Governor's
Reply To Sunni
Deputation

LUCKNOW, Nov. 16. It is likely that the "Madhe Sahaba" agitation which during the last five months resulted in the arrest of over 300 "Red Shirt" Ahrar volunteers in Lucknow is soon going to cease as a result of the Governor's advice to the deputation of Sunni Muslims which waited on His Excellency on Saturday last.

The Governor's offer to release the Ahrar prisoners and remit their fines if the latter stop the agitation is regarded satisfactory in Muslim circles.

The Ahrar leaders are meeting to-night and an announcement in this connection is expected to-morrow.—United Press

"Vizzy" An Absolute Failure

Not Fit To Captain Indian Side

Reinstatement Of Amarnath Proposed Found To Be At Fault But Punishment Was Altogether Too Drastic

BOMBAY, Tuesday.

The "Bombay Chronicle" reliably understands that Sir John Beaumont and Doctor Subbarayan, the two members of the Enquiry Commission set up by the Board of Control for Cricket in India, to enquire into the Indian Cricket Tour in England signed their report this afternoon.

The "Chronicle" understands that the findings of the Committee, after going through the mass of evidence before them, both oral and written, have been unanimous and the evidence, recorded has been destroyed.

The Report will be sent to the Nawab of Bhopal, President of the Board, by the end of this week and it is gathered that the Committee have recommended the publication of the Report, after it has been considered by the Board at a special meeting.

The document runs into 12 type written pages and deals with the actions of most of the players, in so far as it affected the Cricket tour.

PUNISHMENT TOO DRASTIC

On the question of Amarnath, the Committee are unanimous in their opinion that his actions did call for disciplinary action, as he did not behave himself, as a Cricketer was expected to behave.

But the Committee hold that the punishment accorded to him was too harsh, uncalled-for and extremely tactless. They feel that some minor punishment of not playing him for some matches etc., was all that was necessary.

They further feel that the sending back of Amarnath, the star batsman of the side, affected the morale of the side and resulted in the series of failures, after his departure.

The Committee recommend that Amarnath should be reinstated in international cricket provided he tenders an apology to the Board of Cricket Control for his "indisciplinary act in England."

"VIZZY"—CONDEMNED

There was not a single player who gave evidence before Sir John Beaumont, who did not say that the Maharajkumar was an absolute failure as a Captain.

The Committee in their finding say that the Maharajkumar was a failure as a cricketer on the field though they give him a certificate by saying that he was a social success.

BRITAIN-JONES FAILURE

Dealing with Major Brittain-Jones, the Committee feel that the Manager of the Indian Team during the tour was not what was expected of a Manager of a touring side.

He was not only not with the team always, but he behaved in a tactless way and contributed very little towards keeping the members of the team together. The Manager could have inspired the necessary confidence among the members of the team, which Major Brittain-Jones did not. He was not one of them, hence the aloofness of the members from him.

The Committee have said everything in their finding about the Manager to lead to the conclusion that in future there should be an Indian Manager who would inspire confidence among the members of the team and make himself felt to be one of the team.

TRIBUTE TO NAIDU

The Committee then refers to the allegations made against Major C. K. Nayudu, to the effect that he did not give his best to the tour and non-co-operated with the Captain. The Committee maintain that Major Nayudu did not give the co-operation that was expected of him but they feel that there was nothing in the evidence to disprove that he did not do his best for the side.

Most of the members of the team, it would appear have paid a tribute to the generalship of the Major especially in the Lancashire match. The Committee recommend to the Board of Control that in the future the selection of the Captain of a touring side should be made mainly on his cricketing merits and ability and not on his social status.

In conclusion the Committee pay a tribute to Merchant and Ramaswami as the only two persons in the team, who did their best for the team irrespective of the squabbles that were going on.

Maharajkumar Examined

Dr. Subbarayan, a member of the Beaumont Committee arrived in Bombay on Saturday morning and since then was closeted with Sir John Beaumont every day. They went through the evidence of the members of the team, which had been recorded by the Chief Justice.

The Maharajkumar of Vizianagaram, was invited to be present when he was examined by the Chief Justice and Dr. Subbarayan on the evidence that had been tendered by the members of the team making serious allegations against the Captain.

The Report was drafted, it would appear by the Chief Justice, and certain last minute changes were made on Monday evening, when both the members of the Committee went through it together. The final report was not ready till after noon to-day.

Dr. Subbarayan left for Madras to-day by the Madras Express as he was urgently wanted in Tamil Nadu in connection with the Congress Parliamentary Board's work.

Why Compromise Efforts Failed Communal Issue Is Merely A Cloak

Shankarrao Deo Exposes Reformist And Fascist Mentality Of Democrats

POONA, Nov. 18.

While it was in Maharashtra that the talks of Congress Nationalist Compromise were first mooted, it is now in Maharashtra that the two parties have failed to come to an agreement and while Pandit Malaviya and Mr. Aney, the two leaders of the nationalists who broke from the Congress on the Communal issue have now agreed to make common cause with the Congress and stand on the Congress Ticket at the forthcoming elections, it is their lieutenants that are still holding out, carrying on an anti-Congress campaign, declares Mr. Shankarrao Deo, President of the Maharashtra Provincial Congress Committee, in a statement on the failure of the compromise talks in Maharashtra.

AWARD ONLY A CLOAK

Analysing the reason for the failure of the talks, Mr. Deo expresses the opinion that it has been revealed that the differences between the two "groups" of nationalists were not merely on the question of the Communal Award but that the Award was only an excuse for the Democratic Swarajists to cover other numerous differences.

Mr. Deo avers that there are fundamental differences of policy and programmes behind the apparent divergence of opinion on the communal issue between the Congress and the Democrats. This is clearly evident not only by the fact of Pandit Malaviya and Mr. Aney identifying themselves with the Congress but also by the fact that U.P., the Punjab and even Bengal have veered round to the Congress side.

He adds, "It is only in Maharashtra that we see the spectacle of accredited Nationalists displaying such uncompromising attitude to the Congress. Some members of the Democratic Party flouting the cherished desire of their leader, carried on such a virulent propaganda that the leader of the Party disgusted with the tactics left the party leadership."

The recent Democratic Conference at Nasik has amply revealed how far the Communal issue was made an excuse to keep out of the Congress. The real issues have now become very clear.

WHERE DIFFERENCE COMES IN. "It has now become patently clear that the Democrats have not the same goal as the Congress. Congress stands for uncompromising rejection of the new Constitution for another, approved by a Constituent Assembly, whereas the Democrats are not only prepared to accept it but to work it to "best advantage."

The Congress wants a Constitution that is in consonance with the National ideals and that fulfils the National demands, but the Democrats are not only ready to accept what is given but are agreeable to adapt themselves to it. Consequently, on the question of the Constituent Assembly there is a world of difference between the two. The Democratic Party will accept a Swaraj by instalments, but the Congress will work only for "Purna Swaraj."

Mr. Deo also points out that there is similarity a difference on the question of Office Acceptance

A SIND SENSATION

KARACHI: Nov. 17.

The murder of Seth Ansumal, a big landlord, has created considerable sensation throughout the province of Sind. Complete banal is being observed and the Karachi merchants have decided to close the market for a day. A delegation of the Hindus waited on the authorities and urged the removal of certain Police officers. A Muslim zamindar, named Sona Khan has been arrested in this connection.—United Press.

and that the Democrats have committed themselves to it. Proceeding he says, "the Democratic Swarajists have been frightened out of their wits by socialism and socialistic talks. It is a known fact that Congress has not accepted socialism."

The new leaders of the Democrats do not spare a single opportunity, from a private Tea Party to a public reception, from a religious ceremony to a political platform, to decry Congress and Socialism."

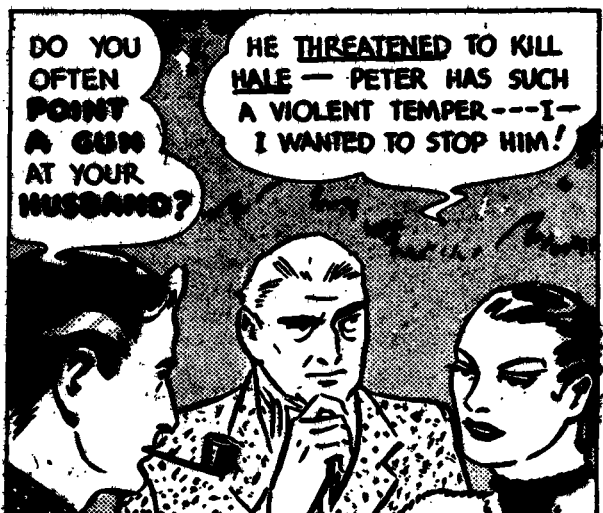

FASCIST MENTALITY. Mr. Deo feels that the Democrats have been enamoured on the Fascist Ideal and seem to want to emulate the Nazis and the Fascists.

Concluding Mr. Deo says that in the past 15 years of Maharashtra political history, it has been a long and unending chapter of Democratic intransigence.

The Nationalist Forces have been divided at critical junctures to the detriment of National interests and now only history has repeated itself.
